OLYMPIC SPEED AND ENDURANCE TEST

Of the three events comprising the Equestrian Olympic Games the Grand Prix de Dressage represents the utmost in grace, suppleness and obedience; the Prix des Nations or big jumping the utmost in acrobatic ability; and the Three Day Event or Concours Complet d'Equitation the utmost in versatility—the complete test of horse and rider including Dressage, Cross Country and Stadium Jumping. Of the three days it is the second which is by far the most demanding. Originally conceived to test cavalry officers' chargers, the second day reproduces the feats of a dispatch rider delivering military orders, including (according to the conditions of the 1960 Rome games) Roads and Tracks, 9 miles per hour for 7,440 meters (31 min.); Steeplechase, 21 2/3 miles per hour for 3,600 meters (6 min.); Roads and Tracks, 9 miles per hour for 13,440 meters (56 min.); Cross Country, 16.25 miles per hour for 8,100 meters (18 min.); and Run-in, 12 miles per hour for 1,980 meters (6 min.). The second day is designated as a test of speed and endurance. Speed is tested in the steeplechase and cross country phases, bonus points being awarded for speeds greater than those set forth above, a factor which consequently gives this day by far the greatest importance of the three as far as scoring is concerned. Endurance is tested by the total distance, 34,560 meters or just under 22 miles, particularly the second Roads and Tracks phase; by the total time in which it must be covered to avoid penalties, 1 hour and 57 minutes; and by any additional speed exerted in an effort to gain bonus points.

Olympic tests are necessarily severe and the Equestrian Events are no exception. Because several of the most difficult obstacles of the Rome Cross Country course were placed near the finish area, which was also the most accessible, some of the spectators, particularly those who had never before seen an event of this kind, were inclined to regard it as a case for the SPCA. Actually, of the 73 who competed, 44 or 65% completed the course, 35 with bonus points for additional speed.

There is no event which cannot be improved, however. In 1960, for the first time the teams representing the different countries consisted of four horses and riders, the scores of the best three to count. In former Games, when only three competed, each man rode with discretion so as to be sure to finish and thus qualify the team. This year the first three riders of each team tended to go flat out, knowing that there was still a fourth to go in case they were eliminated, often with disastrous results. Furthermore some countries had difficulty in finding fourth horses of Olympic calibre, sending animals which really were not up to the test—as witness the much more frequent eliminations of the first set of horses to go. Definitely the F.E.I. rule of 3 horses to a team should be restored.

The rules now allow 4 refusals at a given obstacle before elimination. In consequence one saw riders trying to force their horses over obstacles by repeated tries, when it was obvious that they were not equal to the task. A horse should be permitted one refusal because of surprise or bad luck. But if he is of Olympic calibre and fresh enough to go on, he should certainly jump the second time. The 4 refusal rule should be reduced to 3, better still to 2.

The second day is a test of speed and endurance, not a test of high jumping. The jumps are included because a dispatch rider crossing a country, would necessarily have to negotiate the obstacles he found in his way. For the last several Games, however, there has been a tendency to make the jumps bigger and bigger. At Rome the steeplechase jumps were built so high and brushed so stiffly that an extra-ordinary effort was required. The cross country obstacles were higher, wider and included more drops than normal. They were not placed so as to test the handiness of the horse and the skill of the rider (which natural obstacles would do), but with straight approaches, requiring only a big and taxing effort.

Finally obstacles should be constructed so that even the inferior horse can fall and extricate himself with a minimum chance of getting hurt. At Rome there were 2 unprotected masonry obstacles, one made of open concrete culvert sections, and both inexcusable. Two ditches were also revetted on the far side in a way which made it virtually impossible for a horse to scramble out. The F.E.I. should maintain an even closer control over course construction and should appoint qualified technical delegates with ample authority to make changes.

Let us make sure that the Olympic Three Day Event provides a fair as well as a complete test. Letters addressed to this office from readers who agree with our position and wish to support it will be forwarded to the proper authority via the U.S. Combined Training Association.

Dream Wreckers

Raleigh Burroughs

A few years ago, anyone on a high-class sucker list might have received a letter from the beautiful daughter of a poor devil incarcerated in a Spanish prison. All the girl wanted was $10,000 (in small bills - American money) to bribe dad's jailer and get his release. In return, she would guarantee a substantial share of a fabulous fortune her old man had stashed away before they threw him in the clink. She did not expect anyone to be foolish enough to send the money by return mail. To prove everything was on the up and up, she wanted the prospective investor to meet her in Spain where he could be sure to get a square deal.

It was a fascinating proposition - a trip to Spain, a fortune that would put one on easy street for life and a bit of socializing in a romantic land with a grateful, warm-blooded Castilian miss. Best of all, avaricious gallants who answered the letter learned that the girl was reasonable; if she couldn't get ten (thousand) she'd take five.

Risks Involved

Greedy cavaliers who decided to go on the rescue mission must have guessed that they stood in jeopardy of being murdered in Madrid, or slain in Seville. But if you're going after castles in Spain you've got to expect some inconveniences. And even if you lose, you've had your fun dreaming.

There is no record of how many adventurers were taken in by the dodge or how many had their throats slit, but the law enforcers in this and the other countries involved have just about wiped out the racket. There will be no more dreams of senoritas and Spanish gold.

Seems that whenever a poor man thinks he has found a short cut to luxurious social security, some spoilsport tries to snatch the rug out from under him.

A gent plodding along the drab treadmill of life finds the way brightened if there is a vision of hope ahead. It can be found in a lottery ticket, a share of stock, a pinball machine with all the lights lighted or a Pic-Six ticket at a small, but, modern racetrack.

Dreams are made of such stuff.

Maybe, deep down inside, the dreamer knows he'll never make it, but the fun of trying adds excitement to his existence and makes him willing to continue trudging along the weary road.

Unhappily, there are sadists who seem to delight in immersing immature water-foul beyond their depths and puncturing bubbles of living color.

Sometimes it is the Post Office Department, sometimes the laws of nature, man or economics, and sometimes it's the Internal Revenue Service.

A few seasons back when many Americans were preparing to get wealthy playing the Caliente future book through the mail, somebody in the Post Office Department threw a monkey wrench into the works. There is no law on the books prohibiting transaction of business with an investment firm in another country, so the Post Office Department made one by proclamation.

Couriers Wouldn't Carry

Letters addressed to the Caliente brokerage firm were returned to sender. The action shut off the pipeline to prosperity for millions.

Now the Internal Revenue people are concerned about the host of skilled selectors who are gaining financial independence by picking six straight winners and $600 doubles.

As the racetrack operators who present Bonanzas, Klondikes and Kohinoors brag in big type about their benefactions, an income tax man is duty bound to dash out and try to collect.

On the last day of September, the Treasury Department notified the New York Racing Association that it is required to file Form 1099 "U. S. Information Return for Calendar Year" on all daily double payoffs exceeding $600 on a $2 ticket and $3,000 on a $10 ticket.

The Russians will hail this as another evidence of capitalistic oppression of the small man. The lad who bet two bucks will be grabbed if he makes a profit of $598, but the obviously-opulent owner of a ten-dollar certificate can gain up to $2,990 without having to give his right name.

At Bel Air, Maryland, where the pick-six plan was in operation, a representative of the collecting branch of the Government delivered the same notification as was received by the NYRA.

Mutuels men are not sure what they should do if the holder of a winning ticket refuses to give his name. But the Government will tell them - soon.

Afraid To Win

Horse-players in recent years have been haunted by the fear that a Federal man will be waiting at the window, if they ever make a really big killing. This has hurt their handicapping.

Generally speaking, it is a useless fear, and bothers only those given to worrying.

If, as horse-park customers believe, winning bettors are carefully watched by agents of the Treasury Department, the cost of collection is going to be high.

As practically nobody wins at odds of 300 to 1, the Government man will have a lot of time on his hands. At the racetrack it is easy to find a way to improve the idle moment - by studying the Daily Racing Form.

Hour after hour of study is sure to give the student a wide education in the field. The first thing you know, the agent will be the best handicapper in the stand, and he'll be winning one pick-six after another.

Who's going to report him?

Obviously, the answer is to put two men on the job, doubling the cost of enforcement.

This might not work either. If eight jockeys can get together on a deal, certainly two smart handicappers can.

Belmont Park

Belmont Park staged the 5th running of the Long Island Handicap on Monday, September 26, the first day of its 24 day fall meeting. A handicap stakes for 3-year-olds and upwards, the added money was $25,000 and the distance one and three-eighths miles over turf.

W. C. Partee's *El Espectador finished three parts of a length in front of Brae Burn Farm's General Arthur. In the show spot was Harbor View Farm's Quiz Star and in fourth place, J. S. Burrows' Dirce. The winner's time for the 1 3/8 miles was 2.16 3/5.

*El Espectador is a 5-year-old brown horse by *Yatasto-Esbrouf, by British Empire, bred by Haras Miryam in Argentina. J. J. Welpert trained the Argentine-bred and the Panamanian jockey B. Baeza rode him. It was his third triumph out of twelve starts for 1960 and his first stakes victory in the United States. It netted $19,135 for his connections. *El Espec-tador was purchased last year at a nominal price for Mr. Partee by his trainer. His sire, the Argentine champion *Yatasto, now stands in California.

Lawrence Realization (Wed., Sept. 28)

Belmont Park's 68th running of The Lawrence Realization fielded eight 3-year-olds for its test of one and five-eighths miles. Fifty thousand dollars were added for the allowance stakes.

Bohemia Stable's odds-on favorite, Kelso, ridden by Eddie Arcaro, won with speed in reserve, showing four and one half lengths of daylight to C. V. Whitney's Tompion. Cain Hoy Stable's Tooth and Nail was third and O. Phipps' Sarcastic picked up fourth money. The winner crossed the finish line of the 1 5/8 miles race in 2.40 4/5.

Kelso is a dark bay or brown gelded son of Your Host out of the Count Fleet mare Maid of Flight, bred by Mrs. R. C. duPont (Bohemia Stable). C. H. Hanford tightened the girth for the winner and received the trainer's cut of the $35,800 net. It was Kelso's sixth winning run out of seven starts for 1960.

The Beldame (Sat., Oct. 1)

Nine fillies and mares, 3-year-olds and upwards, faced the starter in the 42nd running of The Beldame at Belmont Park. It was a weight for age stakes, at one and one-eighth miles with a purse of $75,000 added.

Eric Guerin gave Foxcatcher Farm's Berlo a masterful ride to defeat W. B. MacDonald, Jr.'s Royal Native by two lengths. Berlo was in last position for the first half mile and in 7th position after completing the three-quarter miles; she lost ground at the last turn, going on the outside, but came on to take the lead in the stretch. Cain Hoy Stable's Make Sail was the lady in third place and C. V. Whitney's Silver Spoon got the short side of the added money. The winning time was 1.49 2/5.

Berlo is a brown 3-year-old filly, by *Heliopolis out of Faberose, by Rosemont, bred by her owner W. duPont, Jr. (Foxcatcher Farm). R. E. Handlen is the trainer. The winning run was worth $57,615 net. This gives Berlo $160,340 for the year, having won six out of eight races and finishing third once.

Atlantic City

The 15th running of the Boardwalk Handicap, a $25,000 added race, for 3-year-olds and upwards, drew nine handicap stalwarts, on Sat., Oct. 1. Run under handicap stakes conditions, the distance was one and one-sixteenth miles.

W. A. Hanger's favored Waltz took a head decision from Mrs. Lillian M. Zarrella's Battle Neck. Clermont Stable's Rick City was third and Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Talent Show, fourth. The winner was clocked at 1.43 4/5 for the 1 1/16 miles.

Waltz is a 4-year-old, dark bay gelding, by *Turn-to out of Harmonica, by Snark, bred by Hartland Farm. Max Hirsch saddled the winner and Sammy Boulmetis rode him. Waltz added $19,070 to his bankroll.

Lincoln Downs

The Lincoln Downs, R. L., track featured The Old Colony Handicap on Saturday, Oct. 1. It was a one mile overnight handicap with a purse of $10,000, for 2-year-olds and it produced ten starters.

Resseguet and Weiner's Bull Story recorded a four length victory over W. H. Foales' Joy of Easter. P. Schwartz's Give Up was third and Double T. Stable's Special Offer, fourth. The winner toured the mile in 1.39 4/5 over a good track.

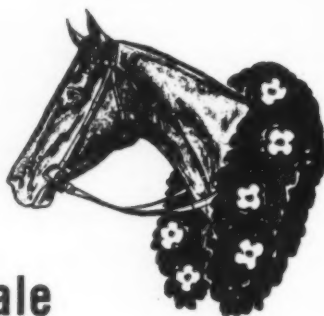

Bull Story is a dark bay colt, by Mighty Story out of Esta Lea, by Bull Lea, bred by Hendon Farms. H. L. Bray saddled the winner and H. Wajda had the riding assignment. Bull Story netted $5,300 for his owners.

Fairfax Hunt Races

Chris Wood, Jr.

Favored with perfect autumn weather, the 3rd annual running of the Fairfax Race Association's one-day meeting lured some 5,000 aficionados to the rolling acreage of Sunset Hills, Va., on Saturday, October 1. Operating for the benefit of the Fairfax Hospital, the popular meeting with over 500 subscribing patrons offered four sanctioned races and two unsanctioned events. Endowed with a $1,200 purse and known as the richest timber race in Virginia, the 3rd running of the A. Smith Bowman Memorial Bowl served as the stellar attraction.

Valley Hart Timber Winner

Registering a second and successive success of the season, Mrs. Virginia M. Duvall's Valley Hart accounted for the 3-mile timber test and earned 3 points in the United Hunts Racing Association's awards to lead the timber division with 15 points.

A field of 7 contested the race and with the exception of Mrs. Carol Batson's Conda Kit, all of the contestants showed in front at one time or another during the running. Fresh from a triumph in the 38th running of the New Jersey Hunt Cup, Mrs. Wilfred Wood's neophyte jumper, Latin Lancer led the field over the 1st of 16 fences. In close attendance were Mrs. E. D. Ceballos' Barge Toter and Talbot J. Albert's Clean Home. As the field negotiated the 4th obstacle, Barge Toter, under Philip Fanning, showed the way, with Latin Lancer and Valley Hart a length in the van.

As the field moved to the 8th fence, Samuel R. Fry's Melbroke moved with alacrity under Eugene Weymouth and showed in front by 3 lengths as the obstacle was cleared. The eventual winner got over in 2nd position, 2 lengths in advance of Latin Lancer.

Moving to the 12th fence in front of the judge's stand, Andrew Branham's veteran, Harkimell, entered contention and matched strides with Melbroke and Valley Hart at a pace more befitting hurdlers going 1 1/2 miles, than timber-toppers going 3 miles. As the trio lifted for the fence, Valley Hart and Harkimell moved as a team, with Melbroke about a neck behind. The slight lag caused the latter to falter and crash through the fence without breaking it, but definitely slanting it a few feet out of position. Following the mishap, Melbroke regained his feet and ran through a snowfence guard rail into the parking line. Fortunately, neither trainer-rider Eugene Weymouth or any of the spectators on the line of vantage were injured.

Following the accident, Harkimell, under Charles Linton, and Valley Hart, with rider-trainer James Hruska aboard, led the pack until the final fence, where the tiring Harkimell fell, without injury to horse or rider. With his nemesis out of contention, Valley Hart coasted under the wire with a 6-length advantage over Latin Lancer. The latter was 15 lengths to the good of Barge Toter. Clean Home and Conda Kit completed the order of finish, with the latter a distanced last.

The winner negotiated the route over firm turf in 8:54 and earned a net of $765 from the $1,200 purse. Mrs. Duvall, a resident of White Hall, Md., did not witness the triumph as she was at home caring for her week-old baby girl. Rider-trainer James Hruska accepted the trophy from A. Smith Bowman, Jr., and his future bride, Miss Mary Lee, on Mrs. Duvall's behalf.

Rythmn Master Wins On Flat

A winner of two hurdle races, Charles W. Stitzer's home-bred, Rythmn Master, broke his maiden on the flat when he scored a 3-length triumph in the Stirrup Cup, a 1 1/8 miles turf test for maidens which opened the good day of sport. Coming from 5th in the field of 9 starters, the eventual winner caught the front-running Irish Soldier after 3/4's of a mile and drew away to an easy victory. The latter, under owner-rider-trainer Stephen E. Rice, finished 2nd, just a 1/2 length in front of L. Clay Camp's Robert J., but was disqualified and placed 3rd for bothering Robert J. on the first turn. The latter was ridden by A. P. (Paddy) Smithwick. In registering his first victory on the flat, Rythmn Master, a 4-year-old gelding by Yildiz-Temper Red, was timed in 1:52.

The Parkington, a 1 3/4 miles hurdle race for allowance horses, lured 7 starters and at the conclusion, Richard W. Trapnell, III's Granny's Will chalked up her 1st success of the season. Adeptly handled by William H. Turner, Jr., the mare ran 3rd in the early stages, which found the pace alternating between Mrs. M. G. Walsh's Grey Baby and L. Clay Camp's Big Thrill. Running head-and-head with Grey Baby over the final pair of hurdles in the flight of 7, Granny's Will drew away in the stretch to win by 4 lengths. Making his first start over hurdles and fencing in a green manner, Grey Baby was 2nd, 2 1/2 lengths in the van of Big Thrill. During the running of the race, which was timed in 3:04, Derrydown, with owner-trainer-rider, T. H. Brooks up, ran off the course.

Showing sharp improvement after running last throughout the recent running of the Wilmerding hurdle race at Far Hills, N. J., Mrs. June H. McKnight's *Darubini responded to A. P. (Paddy) Smithwick and scored an easy victory in the Seven Corners Purse. A field of 7 went postward in the 2 1/8 miles hurdle race and 5 finished with *Darubini the victor by 5 lengths. Closing fast in the final stages, Emmett Roberts' Another Slam came from 4th over the 9th and last hurdle to be 2nd, 1 3/4 lengths to the good of Mrs. Jack Grabosky's *Villena. The latter was bumped badly by *Cafre II on the last turn, causing Scott Riles to lose his reins and a good deal of ground as he sought to regain the reins and control of his mount. Charles W. Stitzer's Cubic, an early pace-setter, tired to finish 4th, while Charles E. Linton's *Cafre II finished 5th and last.

Wheeling at the start of the race, Randolph D. Rouse's Northward Bound unseated Joseph L. Aitcheson, Jr., and ran off. The next mishap was brought off at the 3rd hurdle, where James Walsh, Jr., riding his first race, crashed through the wing with the Krestwood Farm's Mal's Trouble. The pair did not go down and the neophyte jockey brought his mount back to the course and jumped all but the 3rd, where he ran out. In registering his 1st success of the year, the winner was timed in 3:34.

Unsanctioned Events

The Difficult Run an unsanctioned event for lady riders over the 1 1/8 miles turf course brought out 5 fair contestants. Riding Allen K. Shreve's Yes I Will, Lavina Shreve drove her mount to a thrilling victory over Sir Nigel, with Mrs. Leon A. Greenaway up. Kathy Kusner, winner of the race in 1959, finished 3rd on her Go Jet, while Mrs. Ferdinand R. White was 4th on her Dover Dam, the early pace-setter in the race.

The Lord Bryan Fairfax, frequently called the "fat man's race" brought out

THE CANDIDATES AND THE RACES
The New York Racing Association has announced that forty-six-year-old John F. Kennedy will become supervisor of the racing department effective November first.

Mr. Kennedy will be responsible for the paddock, the scale room, and horse identification.

And, of course, you know there is a trainer whose name is Dick Nixon. I'll bet he would have a tough time getting stall space in New York this fall.

The province of Normandy, in the North of France on la Manche or the English Channel, is one of the fairest and most fertile regions of France. Le bon beurre de Normandie, the creamy, unadulterated butter; the apple brandy, cider and vin de Calvados; cheese—camembert made at Orme; and meat, are some of its famous products. To the horseman, however, the haras de Normandie, the great stud farms, are of paramount interest. Many of the proprietors of these haras are also among the elite of race horse owners, whose colours are carried in the classic stakes of France, England, Ireland, and even the United States.

Most of the haras listed at the end of this article are situated in the department of Calvados. Normandie is divided into five departments for administrative purposes. Four are East and West along the coast—Seine-Inferieure, Eure, Calvados and Manche—while Orme is inland.

The soil and climate as well as the topography of Normandie is similar to that of Ireland. Some proprietors of haras maintain establishments in both countries. Even their appearance is much the same, the lush, green fields of Normandy resembling the verdant pastures of the Emerald Isle. The English Channel is actually of comparatively recent geological formation. "The land-connection between England and the coast of France was not finally severed until the latter part of the Pleistocene Period. The channel covers what was previously a wide valley, and may be described as a headless gulf."

As for the haras of Normandy, these are maintained with meticulous care. Many are situated in park-like surroundings, a beautiful landscape of rolling pastures, with gardens clustering about the entrance lodges.

From Deauville or Trouville, the twin coastal resorts of Calvados, the visitor interested in seeing the haras in the nearby countryside may go by motor or bus, or even enjoy a hike to the small village of Touques where several on the list are situated.

Some years ago Air France inaugurated a series of horseback tours through regions of several European countries; naturally the stud farms of this North country of France were included.

Charles L. Appleton 'Chase

Winning in a manner which greatly impressed, Montpelier's Nala made his brush debut in the Charles L. Appleton, and despite a dangerous bobble at the ninth, went on to a two and a half length score. He carried 148 lbs. and was ridden by Albert Foot. In contrast to his usual hustling ride, Foot rode quietly, in fact never used a whip on the *Nasrullah-Accra gelding. Six went postward, with the four-year-old, Norman Bate's Lord Mike, under 142 lbs., setting a very rapid pace and fencing like a hurdler. In fact at the third fence he got in deep enough to tear out a rail on the landing side, but it didn't seem to bother him at all and he went on to increase his lead, which going down the far side was about half a dozen lengths. Closest in pursuit was the starting top weight, Cartagena, with 151 lbs., and ridden by Scottie Schulhofer, followed by the eventual winner, Mystical Gem, Out of Reach and *Romeo completed the field. Going by the stands the second time, Lord Mike again got deep into the fence at the clubhouse corner, but without seeming effect. It was at this fence that Nala landed poorly, threw Foot up on his neck, and all but lost any chance. However Nala quickly recovered and moving down the far side the last time, the Montpelier color bearer started to close on the leaders. At the middle fence, Lord Mike jumped poorly and Cartagena moved to within about two lengths of him. A similar occurrence at the next jump caused Lord Mike to lose the lead, and Cartagena raced for the turn with a daylight lead. Gaining steadily on the outside Nala moved up on equal terms with the Dixon horse. Midway around and from that point to the final jump in the stretch, the pair raced as a team. While both horses jumped this well, Cartagena landed better and appeared to have the advantage very briefly, but Nala responded well to a hand ride, drew even, then opened up and wonging away. Twelve lengths behind Cartagena, Lord Mike was third with Mystical Gem, *Romeo and Out of Reach next in that order, and well out of contention.

Time for the race was 3:50 3/5, a little more than a full second off the course record, but remarkable in that the portable railing on the turns for this race was out at least 15 feet from the "rail". Previous to the Appleton, Nala had won three races over hurdles this year. The manner in which he won his brush debut pointed him out as the horse to beat in the remaining stakes of the year.

THE CHRONICLE

Nautilus Wins

Aqueduct's fourth week of racing opened on a very damp note weatherwise. For the preceding thirty six hours a steady and sometimes heavy rain had left the infield courses in a very wet condition. Of the nine which had been named on Saturday morning, six went postward in a two mile hurdle race run under claiming conditions, Mrs. L. W. Knapp, Jr.'s Nautilus, a winner in 1959, but unsuccessful in six previous starts this season, found the footing much to his liking, and appeared to be the only one with any kind of run in the last half mile. He was ridden out by Evan Jackson, and crossed under the wire 20 lengths to the fore of Mercedes Tully's Shining Bright. Straggling in behind these two, Cool Warrior, Nizam's Pet, Hindrance and Greek Brother finished in Indian file in that order. An indication of the course could easily be read into the time, 4:00 4/5, being exactly twenty seconds off the course record.

The following day, nine three-year-olds ran over a slightly better course, and provided the setting for Albert Foot to demonstrate what perseverance and determination could do. Racing head and head over the first two hurdles, Out of Space with Charlie Harr and Sunny Rhodes with Joe Aitcheson opened a daylight advantage over the others, but going to the third, Garioch put *Duggan's Dew II in command.

Jimmy Pitt, trainer, says:

"After a winning race, nothing seems to tone up Bally Ache like an Absorbine rubdown."

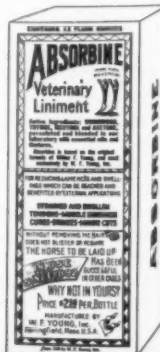

"The best winning combination our stable ever had," says Jimmy Pitt, "is Bally Ache and Absorbine! After every race, Bally Ache cools out with an Absorbine wash."

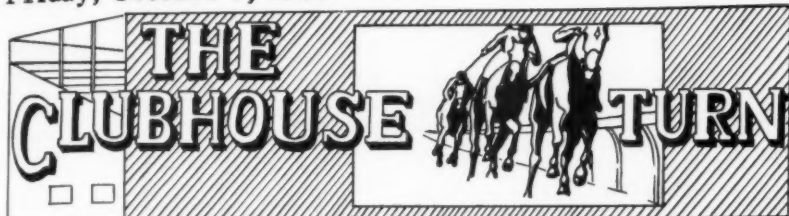

This is sound advice from the trainer of America's leading 3-year-old—recently sold to Turf-land stables for $1,250,000.

"It's our job to bring him up to his races in the best possible condition," Mr. Pitt goes on. "That's why I use Absorbine daily—as a wash and tightener. No other liniment I've found does such a good all-round job."

Used either full strength or in a wash, Absorbine is consistently effective, yet safe—won't cause blistering or loss of hair. The large, long-lasting bottle is still only $2.50 at any druggist's. Also available in one-gallon size.

Sheshoon Wins Baden Preis

Thousands of German enthusiasts and overseas visitors will remember Sheshoon's performance in the 90th Grosser Preis von Baden on Sept. 4. A wave of applause accompanied Aga Khan's Ascot Gold Cup winner and winner of Grand Prix de St. Cloud and able George Moore when they were led in by young trainer Alec Head. Sheshoon took the mile and a half event by an easy length with Schlenkerhan's Agio second, separated by photo-finish by one head from Mydlinghoven's Mohikaner. Odds on to beat all Germany's best and his fellow French challengers Malefaim and Turkano, the runner-ups of last year, Sheshoon's victory completed a French hat-trick, as Dushka had won this international competition in 1958.

Sheshoon was placed behind the field of 14 runners, as he had lashed out at other horses. When they were off, he lost ground. The slow, early pace and soft going were all against Sheshoon, who likes to come from behind, but Moore kept him out of all trouble and challenged wide in the straight. Yet he came to the front before the field had passed the grandstand and won easily. The Tantieme five-year-old Agio, St. Leger winner of 1958, confirmed his status as Germany's best older horse though he had a set-back, like Mohikaner, in mid-June. Tough and consistent Kaiseradler, the Derby second of Zoppenbroich Stud, was a length away, fourth, in front of the Nearco filly Ankerkette, who set the pace until they came into the homestretch.

The splendid effort of the Union-Rennen winner Mohikaner was equal in weight, if you consider scale of age, and makes this Val Drake colt currently the best German three-year-old. American readers will be interested to learn that Mohikaner's fourth dam Melanesia is an own sister to Drift, dam of Tideway (Gulf Stream) and the great stallion Heliopolis.

Sheshoon made a big impression on German racing people by his conformation and racing abilities as well. F. Chales de Beaulieu, for 40 years secretary-general of the Germany Jockey Club, told me afterwards that he rated Sheshoon the best overseas horse within living memory to win the Grosser Preis von Baden, the most coveted German international race.

Sheshoon and his half-brother Charlottesville carry the Aga Khan's hopes in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe at Paris-Longchamp on October 9. I would not be surprised if they finished one-two!

ALY KHAN'S WILL

In pursuance of the provisions of the will of the late Aly Khan, Tattersalls, bloodstock auctioneers of London, have received instructions to sell 39 of the race horses currently campaigning in England, France and Ireland. Any of his heirs may buy any of these lots previous to the sale at an evaluation to be set by Tattersalls. His 11-year-old Yasmin, who is also the daughter of screen actress Rita Hayworth, received a large part of his total estate, a home in France and the proceeds of the Venezuelan Stud which were scheduled to be sold at auction on September 28th. Other bequests include two Stubbs paintings to Alec Head, trainer of his horses in France; three month's salary to each employee of his studs in France and Ireland; $28,000 to Madame Germaine Vuillier, manager of one of his French studs; $56,000 to Robert Miller, assistant to Madame Vuillier; $14,000 to Madame Nellie Smithwick, manager of his stud in County Kildare, Ireland; $208,000 to French model Bettina, who was with him when he was killed in an automobile crash; $14,000 to Mrs. Sybilla Szezeniowska of New York, and $56,000 to Marek Szezeniowska when he reaches age 21.

'CHASER SUCCUMBS

Black Andy, the 4-year-old dark brown gelding, by Black Gang-Skerandy, by Andy K., who won the two mile steeplechase at Aqueduct on Wednesday, September 21, died in his stall the following week, after a short workout. The promising steeple-chaser was owned by his breeder Mrs. A. C. Randolph, M.F.H. of Piedmont Fox Hounds. M.R.

POSSIBLE MERGER OF ATBA AND ATOA

A committee has been appointed to consider the advisability of a merger of the American Thoroughbred Breeders Association, owner of the weekly publication "The Blood Horse" since its organization 26 years ago, with the relatively new Thoroughbred Owners Association. Arthur B. Hancock, president of the ATBA and vice-president of the ATOA, named the committee of which W. Arnold Hanger is chairman. Other members are Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Daniel G. Van Clief, L. L. Haggin II, Leslie Combs II, and Edward Lasker. Fred W. Hooper is president of ATOA.

ATTY PERSSE

Henry Seymour (Atty) Persse, who rode steeplechasers in Ireland and in this country in his early days, was later Master of the Galway Blazers, and eventually became one of Britain's best known trainers, recently died at his home near Ascot, England at the age of 91. He bought The Tetrarch out of the Doncaster yearling sales in 1912, later sold him to his cousin, Major Dermot McCalmont, developed him into the best two-year-old of his year, and later trained many of his get including the 2,000 Guineas winner Tetra-tema, and the top stakes winner, *The Satrap, who made several stud seasons at the Walnut Hall Farm of William duPont, Jr. near Boyce, Va.

SPOKANE WOOS BETTORS

Spokane, Washington's Playfair track went all out this year to lure Californians to its premises. Playfair has always been popular with local punters, and was even more so this fall with the track's management offering, among other things, free steak dinners, breakfast in bed, free admission to the track, and what's more, only two measly dollars to place the first bet! As if this weren't enough, they also invited Calgary's Stampede Queen Margot Turney to their city as their guest. E.O.

Aqueduct 'Chasing

Gradually increasing his lead, the Allison Stern fencer led by as much as four or five lengths coming by the stands the first time. Entering the back side the second time, Foot started riding his horse, and while not improving his position to any extent, he kept within striking distance of the leaders. Continuing his unique style all down the back side and around the lower turn, he got Kamsin to within three or four lengths of *Duggan's Dew II turning into the home stretch. The latter met the last hurdle about a length and a half on top, with Sunny Rhodes alongside. From that point to the wire, Foot laid it on. He hit his mount with a whip left handed, and used the reins on the other side. About a sixteenth from the wire, *Duggan's Dew II hung slightly and the Montpelier homebred and Foot, arms whirling, went by him, drew out and then won by two and a half lengths. *Duggan's Dew II held the place easily about an equal distance in front of Sunny Rhodes, while Praecepte, prominent until the head of the stretch, finished a well beaten fourth.

Black Andy Wins

The Land Boy 'chase on Wednesday drew a field of seven and proved to be an interesting race. Versus went to the front shortly after the start, but surrendered the lead to F. Eugene Dixon, Jr.'s new purchase, *Petrified 2nd, going to the third jump. The latter, ridden by Tommy Walsh set a fast pace and took his fences in hurdle style, and at one time held a lead of about six lengths. Down the back side, the first time Rythmn Master lost Dick Widger at the liverpool in a spectacular fall. Rising all of two feet off his saddle in mid air, Widger came down again, lost his balance and came off the side, but his foot got hung up in the stirrup and he was dragged about a hundred feet before coming loose. Fortunately he suffered nothing more than a few broken bones in his hand. Meanwhile, *Petrified 2nd continued to set a fast pace with Basil Bee and Black Andy closest. Down the far side the second time, he got in deep at the liverpool and lost ground. Making a mistake at the following fence he lost more ground and the lead as Paddy Smithwick went to the front with Black Andy. Around the final turn, Basil Bee also went by the tiring *Petrified 2nd, and vainly sought to overtake the Mrs. T. A. Randolph fencer. However, Black Andy increased his advantage going to the 13th and final jump and then came up to the wire an easy winner by five. Basil Bee had no difficulty for the place, being eight lengths to the fore of Versus, which after running well early, appeared not to like the footing which was on the soft side. Three and a half lengths further back, Easy Timer passed *Petrified to garner the minor share of the purse. Black Andy is a four-year-old unsexed son of Black Gang from Skerandy and was bred by his owner. As a three-year-old in 1959, Black Andy won two hurdle races, including the Elkridge in which he defeated the best of his age. The Land Boy was his fourth start over jumps in the current season, and his first approach to his 1959 form.

The Shipboard Handicap at a mile and seven eighths over the smaller jumps on Friday, September 23rd, wound up the jumping program at Aqueduct. It resulted in a very impressive victory for John M. Schiff's good three-year-old, Our Jeep, which was scoring his fifth win from seven starts this season. Carrying 145 lbs., and conceding chunks of weight on the scale to his opposition, Scottie Schulhofer reserved Our Jeep off the pace set by Little Gil to the last turn. Moving with authority at this point, Our Jeep went by the pace-maker, widened his advantage from the last hurdle to the wire to win easily by six lengths. Little Gil was held to a hard drive to stave off *Esteco 2nd, which ran one of his better races, and was only a length and a half away. Bureaucracy raced evenly and finished fourth in front of Naval Treaty. The latter raced well for more than a turn of the field just off Little Gil, then made a bad landing at the seventh and dropped back. The other starter, Claiborne Farm's Ambassador showed one of his more sulky performances, and after breaking slowly, pulled himself up around the first turn.

TORONTO JOCKEY SETS WIN RECORD

Avelino Gomez, 31-year-old Cuban saddle star, has established an all-time Canadian seasonal high for jockey victories. He recently rode his 28th winner before a crowd of over seven thousand at Toronto's Old Woodbine. Gomez has known nothing but success ever since he brought in his first winner some five years back on an Ontario track. He was last year's top Eastern Canada jockey also. E.O.

"THE BIG A" FILM

Paramount Pictures has recently released a film produced by Winik Films which represents the combined efforts of Paramount, the New York Racing Association and Sports Illustrated. The film covers the activities of Thoroughbred sport from early days on Kentucky breeding farms, showing shots of Citation and Swaps, to racing at Aqueduct.

THE SORORITY BLUSH

Monmouth Park now has a second entry in the drink derby. It all started with the hawks who sell juleps at Churchill Downs on Derby Day. Then came Gulfstream Park with its Derby Daiquiri (rum and things). Next was Monmouth's Apple Sapling (apple jack, lime juice, triple sec, and ice). The Apple Sapling was obviously to go along with Monmouth's entry into the field of expensive two-year-old races, the $100,000 guaranteed Sapling, which was won this year very impressively by Hall To Reason.

Monmouth was not content with just one drink though. In 1960, there was introduced one to go with the track's upgraded (over $100,000 gross, $50,000 added by the track) Sorority for two-year-old fillies. The new drink to go with the race for the girls is called The Sorority Blush and it is made up of four parts of fresh orange juice, one part of cherry brandy, two parts of gin, one part of grenadine, all of which is mixed up and served with a slice of lime, a stick of pineapple, and a cherry. I'd think a mixture like that would make anybody blush.

When I was in college, we had a drink which was guaranteed to make even the sturdiest of the sorority girls blush. It was simply four fingers of straight gin.

FLORIDA

*PETARE TO STUD

The nine-year-old Argentine-bred stallion *Petare (Moslem-Colette, by Dia-doque), the top money winning Thoroughbred in the history of Venezuelan racing, who won the Royal Palm and City of Miami Handicaps in Florida, will make the 1961 season at Meadowbrook Farm, Ocala, Florida, belonging to Joseph LaCroix and Israel Nasher. *Petare started 95 times, won 35 races and earned $322,468 in Argentina, Venezuela and the United States.

HEATH TO STAND *MEETING

The 7-year-old stallion *Meeting (Brick-Eos, by Strip the Willow), belonging to the Tartan Stable of W. L. McKnight, will make the 1961 season at the Bonnie Heath farm, Ocala, Fla. Winner of stakes in Chile at two and three, he earned $110,040 in this country, setting a track record at Hialeah when he won the Turf Handicap.

FLORIDA-BREDS REDEFINED

On August 11th, 1960, the Florida State Racing Commission adopted the following rule: - "In order to qualify for Breeders' Awards, Weight Allowances, Florida Bred races, or any benefits accruing to Florida Bred horses, the Breeder or owner of such Thoroughbred shall register such animal with the Florida Thoroughbred Breeders' Association, which Association is officially approved by the Commission as the Agency for such registration, attesting that the horse is a 'Florida Bred' as defined by the By-Laws of the Florida Thoroughbred Breeders' Association." The By-Laws of the latter organization provide as follows:

Article XI - Florida-Breds

"Section 1. Effective with Thoroughbred horses produced in the year 1961 and thereafter, a 'Florida-bred' is defined as follows:

1) A Thoroughbred foal produced within the State of Florida by a broodmare permanently quartered in Florida. Such broodmare may, after producing her foal in Florida, be shipped out of the state to be served by a stallion, provided she is returned to Florida to resume her domicile at the close of that breeding season, and in no event later than September first; or,

2) A Thoroughbred foal produced within the State of Florida by any broodmare shipped into Florida to foal and be bred to a stallion quartered within the State of Florida, which stallion did not stand for service at any place outside Florida during that calendar year. If, after producing her foal, such broodmare shall not be bred because of physical condition, then her owner shall produce a Veterinarian's Certificate so stating, and the foal shall be considered a Florida-Bred."

The finish of the one and one-half mile Grosser Preis von Baden, Germany - The Aga Khan's 4-year-old Sheshoon, George Moore up, easily won Germany's most coveted international event. The best older horse of Germany, Agio from Schlenderhan Stud (NO. 9) was second by a short head over Mohikaner of Mydlinghoven Stud. (W. Menzendorf Photo)

CANADIAN YEARLING SALES

At the 17th annual yearling sales, held under the auspices of the Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society and conducted by the Fasig-Tipton Co., 99 yearlings brought a total of $230,500 for an average of $2,328. According to president Humphrey S. Finney, this was the most successful sale which the company has yet held in Canada considering the quality of the offerings. E. P. Taylor of Windfields Farm paid top price of $10,000 for a brown colt by Royal Coinage out of Fleets In, by Morsel, consigned by John and Vern Martin's Kansulin Farm, Paris, Ontario.

VIRGINIA

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Van Clief of Esmont, Va., long among the most successful market breeders of yearlings in the country, who more recently have been racing their home-breds, have decided to make available to outside boarders the excellent facilities of their Nydris Stud, which has ample accommodations for mares, young stock and horses-in-training.

NEVER TOO LATE DISAPPOINTS

Never Too Late, the filly belonging to Mrs. Howell E. Jackson of Middleburg, Va., who won the 1,000 Guineas and the Oaks in England early this summer, disappointed her backers when she ran 8th out of 10 in the Prix Vermeille at Longchamp on September 25th. This 12-furlong event for fillies was won by Christian Lehoucq's Lezhinka, ridden by Louis Heurteur in a photo-finish from Baron Guy de Rothschild's Marella.

JACKSON YEARLINGS IN FRANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Howell E. Jackson, of Middleburg, Va., have sent to Chantilly (France) in the care of E. Pollet, who conditions their 3-year-old filly Never Too Late, winner of the English Oaks and 1,000 Guineas this year, three yearlings to be raced in France next season. These are the bay colt Tambourine (*Princequillo - *La Mirobule); the chestnut filly Fun's Up (Tom Fool-Up Early, by Sun Again), a half-sister to Tick Tock; and the bay filly Freshness (*Tulyar-Blue Green, by Questionnaire), a half-sister to the winners Funny Bone and Stop Ringing.

GUGGENHEIM SUPPORTS NEWSTEAD STALLIONS

Captain Harry F. Guggenheim is definitely supporting the stallions which his Cain Hoy Stable is currently standing at Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Hardin's Newstead Farm, Upperville, Va. - Armageddon and Victory Morn.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardin, who had the top average at the Fasig-Tipton Company's Summer Yearling Sales at Saratoga, maintain one of the most efficiently operated stud farms in the country, a fact much appreciated by breeders including Capt. Guggenheim. This spring he sent to Victory Morn the maiden mares Spinning Reel (*Alibhai-Spinning Top, by Bull Lea) and Windshift (High Gun-Wings o'Morn, by Alsab). An older mare who went to his court is Hostage (Roman-*Celaeno, by Fairway). Three other fillies have recently been sent to the farm to be bred in 1961 - Whistle A Tune (Double Jay-Siama, by Tuger), His Fair Lady (Tom Fool-*Dangerous Dame, by *Nasrullah), and Amber Honey (*Ambiorix-Spring Run, by Menow).

The painting reproduced on our cover was executed by Eve Prime (Mrs. Paul Fout). It shows the timber horse Ricacho with his owner Randolph D. Rouse at the Virginia Gold Cup, with Joe Aitcheson up. The bay gelding was foaled in 1950 and is by Roman out of Sylvian Song, by *Royal Minstrel. He was the last foal of his dam, who died in 1950. She was the dam of the stakes winner Greek Song, bred by Greentree Stud. Ricacho went through the Keeneland Sales ring of 1951, where his breeder Jack W. Denis of Brentwood, Tenn., received $26,000 for him from two Westerners, Riley Allison and William Prestridge. He was then shipped to California to trainer Norman R. McLeod. A big 2-year-old, he broke down and his owners destroyed his papers and disposed of him. He was eventually acquired by Mrs. Jean Burke who hunted him for several years, and then turned him over to the Smithwicks for training.

In 1956 Mike Smithwick rode him to an easy victory in the Rapahannock Point-to-Point and repeated at Blue Ridge Hunt's Point-to-Point. That year he started in the Carolina Cup and was beaten by Dancing Beacon. A couple weeks later he won the timber race at Middleburg, Va. Shortly after this race he was purchased by Mr. Rouse. In his next start, the Virginia Gold Cup, he fell at the 5th jump. He followed this up with a victory at Rose Tree and the Adjacent Hunts.

In 1957 he ran third at Middleburg and started in the Virginia Gold Cup, but after leading all the way was caught in the stretch and beaten by Grand Chal. He broke down in his next race at Radnor in which he finished second. In 1958 and '59 he did not race, but in the fall of '59 was returned to racing fitness by daily swimming.

Ricacho was hunted in the '59 '60 hunting season by Mr. Rouse, and started in six timber races in 1960. He fell at the first fence twice (Southern Pines, and Rose Tree) and won four (Carolina Cup, Deep Run Hunt Cup, The Virginia Gold Cup and the Connecticut Hunt Cup), setting several course records. The big gelding is not out for the fall timber racing but is expected to run in the spring of 1961.

PANCOASTS BUY LORD PUTNAM

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Pancoast, of Downingtown, Pa., have recently purchased the 12-year-old stallion Lord Putnam (Requested-Star Miss, by Hadagal), and will stand him during the 1961 season at their Echo Dell Farm. In five crops through mid-1960, Lord Putnam had sired 56 starters, 47 winners and five horses to place, including the 1960 stakes winner Brush Fire, winner of the Select Handicap and Gravesend Handicap.

HUNTING

Piero Santini

Lida Fleitmann Bloodgood

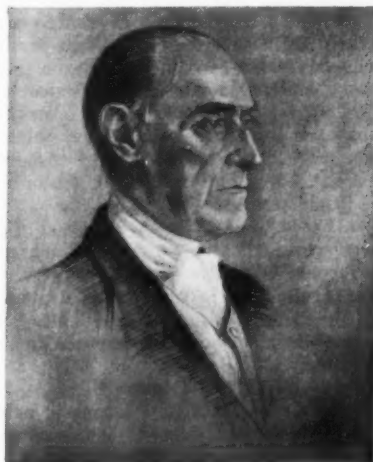

It is difficult to write without emotion about the passing of a much loved friend; more especially if his death leaves a void and gaping hole in the very fabric of one's own life. And yet, just because for over quarter of a century Piero Santini and I shared so many joys and sorrows, mine is perhaps the pen best suited to the writing of an appreciation of one whose renown as a horseman and sporting writer is known wherever the English language is spoken; whose merits as a man rest forever in the hearts of his friends.

Born in the shadow of the Campidoglio, Santini was a true "Romano di Roma" both in his austere good looks and in the complexity of character natural to an ancient race - this in spite of his being by blood actually half American, his mother having been the daughter of the noted sculptor, Randolph Rogers whose bronze "Columbus" doors constitute one of the beauties of our own capitol in Washington. It was indeed from his mother, and in his grandfather's Roman studio, that he learnt his masterly command of the English language. No Englishman ever used it more purely or precisely or more naturally. Entirely bi-lingual, he himself confessed that he never knew whether he thought in his native Italian or in English. When "Riding Reflections" first appeared in 1932, the English "Country Life" in reviewing this famous book said "Santini writes so logically and clearly and his English is so light and attractive that he is more likely to convert (to the Italian Forward Seat) more Englishmen than any Englishman who has so far put pen to paper."

Santini, moreover, knew the hunting fields of England as well as he knew her language and combined with his long experience as a gentleman-rider in almost every country of Europe, his practical observations as an Italian Cavalry officer trained in the Caprilli manner. In World War I he served with the Light Horse Cavalry Regiment of Lucca on the Italian and Salonica fronts and led on Nov. 4th, 1918 - five minutes before the white flag of truce was flown above the Austrian lines - what was probably one of the last Italian Cavalry charges in history. Among other decorations he was awarded the Croce di Guerra a Valore or Italian Military Cross. In World War II he served on the Staff, but the political events resulting in his country's affiliation with Hitler, her eventual defeat and the abdication of her King greatly saddened him. Erroneously thought by some to have been a Fascist - because his sense of patriotism forbade even criticism of his Government in his presence - he was on the contrary opposed to the regime and remained to the end, at heart, a royalist.

In 1930 the grave hunting accident which nearly cost him his leg and permanently lamed him terminated his days in the saddle and cut short military duties in the Reserve which would, by right of seniority, have given him the rank of General in lieu of that of Major, which was his military title when he died.

To this accident, however, the Anglo-Saxon horse world today owes its knowledge of the Italian Forward Seat. Deprived of the sport and the life in the open that he loved, Santini took up his pen and for the first time in any language put down on paper Caprilli's theories of horsemanship. Coupling a native thoroughness with his Latin sense of logic, he wrote with such unmatched clearness that he soon revolutionized modern riding. Before long his three books "Riding Reflections" (1932), "The Forward Impulse" (1936) and "The Riding Instructor" (1952) were to be found on the shelves of horsemen the world over. Indeed as their author lay dying in a Rome ablaze with flags greeting all the nations of the earth, one thing is certain; without a shadow of a doubt every single horseman who entered the city gates to compete in the Olympic games strove, either consciously or unconsciously, to follow the precepts laid down by the two great Italian Cavalry officers; Caprilli and Santini, Master and Pupil whose names will forever be linked by future generations.

If in the long sad evening of his life, when he was totally incapacitated, he sometimes felt himself forgotten by those who owed him much, it perhaps consoled him to think of the tens of thousands of horses whose loins he had freed from the hammering of the old backward seat and whose mouths he would forever have saved from the constrictions of the gags, dropped nosebands and other gadgets he so abominated.

Blessed no doubt by the equine world, recognized as an authority by all horsemen, only his intimates knew that this cavalry officer and gentleman-rider was also a man of wide culture in other fields; that he sketched and painted delightfully, wrote for such magazines as "Atlantic Monthly", "Apollo" and "Connoisseur" and for nearly thirty years contributed, under a pseudonym, articles on art and literature to an American newspaper syndicate. He also wrote several plays and the centaurs and other fanciful figures of his fairy-tale "Hunting Fantasy" (published in 1936) formed the basis of the "Pastoral" in Walt Disney's famous "Fantasia".

Santini was, in short, artist as well as horseman which is perhaps why none can read his books on equitation without being fired by his own passionate enthusiasm for riding as a fine art, an art in which one always aspires but never attains perfection. As he himself put it "The difference that really matters lies in the quality of the flame that animates us, that "passione" as we say in Italy which makes us akin to the hunting gods of mythology." For Piero Santini life's poetry never sank to prose.

Soldier, horseman and artist, it is perhaps entirely fitting that today he lies in Rome's Campo Santo, under the towering pines he loved, wrapped in his faded blue Cavalry cape, covered by his country's flag still bearing the Arms of the House of Savoy under which he served, but - strange anomaly - resting in the tomb of his choice....that of his American sculptor grandfather on which are inscribed:

"Dead he is not, but departed
For the artist never dies."

Groton Hunt Complete Test

The Groton Hunt Complete Test for Hunters held August 24-28, drew 50 entries from Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut and New York. The Test was conducted on four levels, Elementary, Junior, Green and Open. The levels illustrate the successive schooling stages of the horses. All horses were tested on four phases - Program Ride, Cross Country, Working Hunter Class, and Group with hounds. The ultimate goal is a well schooled horse which is pleasant to ride to hounds.

The 3 day competition was preceded by two days of schooling under the tutelage of Captain Vladimir S. Littauer of Syosset, N.Y. and Mrs. Robert E. Carter III, Miss Honora Haynes and Mrs. Kenneth R. H. Read, all of the Groton Hunt. Riders met with the instructors in the evenings to discuss the problems relating to their own horses, and they also saw movies of previous Complete Tests for Hunters.

Program Ride

The Complete Test for Hunters started on August 26 with the Program Ride for the four divisions, Elementary, Junior, Intermediate and Open. The Elementary ride drew 20 entries and consisted of simple schooling movements, with gradual transitions, and was ridden on loose reins to demonstrate a calm, cooperative and obedient horse. Low jumps were included in the ride. The Elementary winner was Bridge of Stars, a 4 year old Thoroughbred, ridden by her owner, Dotsie Kimball; this combination scored 211 points out of a possible 250.

The Junior Program Ride drew 17 entries and was worth a possible 200 points. This ride was performed on contact and horses were expected to know all the standard aids, and of course perform calmly and obediently. The movements called for were the ordinary and extended walk, the slow, ordinary and fast trot with lengthened strides, two speeds at the gallop, and change of leads of a straight line with interruption, Halts, backing, turn on the forehand were also asked, as well as jumps taken at a trot and canter. The winner of the Junior Program Ride was Judy Hardenbrook's Cranberry with 143 pts.

The Green Division used the same Program Ride as the Junior Division and was won by Miss Edna Lantz on her nice Thoroughbred, Rebel Corners with 162 points. There were 9 entries.

The Open Division drew four entries for the advanced program ride. This was ridden on the bit and called for all the movements included in the other rides plus serpentine at the canter, maintaining the lead, turns on the haunches, a short turn at the gallop, and for horses to move with impulse and transitions soft and accurate. The winner was Mrs. Kenneth Read on Torcha with 117 out of a possible 150 points. Second was the powerful moving Foxy Scholar, ably ridden by Robert E. Carter III with 105 points.

Judges Comments

Following each individual ride the judges, Miss Harriet Rogers from Sweet Briar, Va., Miss Patricia Horst from Columbus, Ohio and Julian B. Heron Jr., from Lexington, Kentucky commented to the entire group on the performance in general and gave reasons for any points deducted. All contestants were given their score sheets with comments written in by the judge's clerks.

All the Program Rides were held in a large ring. The majority of the horses performed in snaffles although any standard bridle was permitted. Martingales and dropped nosebands were not allowed in this or in any other phase of the competition.

Cross Country

The Cross Country Phase was held over the Groton Hunter Trial course, appropriately modified for each division.

Horses were judged on form and style of jumping, pace, manners and way of going, as well as jumping performance. There were penalties for knockdowns and disobediences.

THE CHRONICLE

The Elementary Cross Country was 4/5 mile long starting up hill over birch rails, then making a large half circle, jumping a chicken coop which had a tree directly in front of it, then over post and rails, a short turn and back over the next panel. The next three fences were down a hill and were required to be approached at the trot, a plank fence, post and rails then a hold hard, and a birch fence; then horses went to the leadover, through an orchard and had a long approach to the pen where the horses jumped in and went straight through, jumping out over hay bales, and then up hill to the last fence, an aiken. The winner was Margaret Helburn on her Kiev's UMBER with 285 out of a possible 350 points. Second was Barbara Flavin on her Good News with 281 points.

The Junior and Green Divisions used the same course, 1 1/2 miles long, with some of the jumps modified for the juniors. The pace called for was about 15 m.p.h. The more difficult section of the course was through the barn yards, jumping in over a post and rail with a natural ditch in front of it, a sharp turn over a coop followed in one stride by a post and rail drop jump, and then out of the paddock over another post and rail drop jump and a quick hold hard. The next jump was a single white bars with a "Woods closed" sign at the edge of a road leading into an orchard. The trakehner jump did not cause much trouble for the juniors, but many of the horses in the Green Division came to grief at this obstacle. The winner of the Junior Cross Country was Sue Crocker on her Jim Dandy with 348 out of a possible 400 points. Second was Carol Willets on her Sinbad with 329 points.

The winner of the Green Cross Country was Dr. Phyllis MacNeil's Alton's Luck, ridden by Jean Helburn, with 347 out of a possible 400 points, second place going to Mrs. Bruce Read's Sandy Grey with 292 pts.

The Open Cross Country was two miles long with 29 obstacles. The pace was about 18 m.p.h. The course included the jumps used in the other divisions raised, plus a number of new and more difficult jumps. The additional obstacles included telephone poles after which riders were faced with a simulated barbed wire fence so they had to make a right angle turn and jump, in one stride, a green gate, a stone wall with a ditch in front of it, a "V" shaped log jump with a wide spread that was approached at a difficult angle, a water jump, cordwood pile, sheep hurdles, a plank one stride in and out, a pen jump followed by a sharp turn, in order to jump a birch jump, set in a gap through dark woods, which gave the appearance of jumping in a tunnel. The last obstacle was the combination of a pile of tree trunks, two strides uphill, and a bank with a rail on the landing side, requiring considerable flight.

Winner of the Open Division was Torchia with 408 points out of a possible 450, second going to Foxy Scholar with 393 pts.

Immediately following each Cross Country round the judge at the end commented on the performance and judged the condition of the horse. None of the cross country tests were intended as an endurance test. The horses were required to go at a good pace, but were permitted to rest at the "Hold Hard" and leadover without penalty. Horses that finished very hot, blown, or tired were penalized for the rider's lack of judgement and consideration for his horse's condition.

judged on the morning of the third day. The courses were the type commonly found at a horse show, the Elementary Course being very simple, the Green and Junior of medium difficulty, including a 180 degree turn in the pen, and the Open Course quite difficult with 15 obstacles, including the pen, birch horizontal cross logs, a bank and a wide ditch. Horses were also judged on opening and closing a gate.

Group Class with Hounds

The afternoon of the last day was devoted to judging the horses under hunting conditions. Because of the large number of horses, the judging was done in two groups. The Elementary Group, which included many three and four year olds which had never been with hounds, met at the Kennels, and were worked in the large field next to the Kennels behind the hounds. The judges saw them at a walk, trot, canter, and as a group over a long post and rail panel set up in the center of the field. These horses also did hold hards at various points. Each horse received a score and comments which were written down by the clerks and given to the riders later. The winner was Mrs. Gerald W. Hopkin's on her Pierre de Provence, 170 points out of a possible 200, second going to the well mannered pony, Colonel, ridden by his owner Joan Allen, with 161 points.

The Junior, Green and Open horses went together for the hunting part of the Group Class. First judges looked at them in the field by the Kennel as they hacked behind hounds. Then, each judge had a clerk and a driver who was assigned to take that judge to specific check points, (after finishing at one point, the judge was driven to another one) all planned ahead so that the whole length of the five mile drag could be judged. There were also two mounted judges who went along in the Field. After waiting until all judges had dispersed to their check points, Mrs. Robert E. Carter III, M.F.H., riding as hunterman and contestant on Foxy Scholar, led the hounds to covert side and cast them into the woods. There was a judge at this point where everyone had to wait their turn to go over a barway into the woods. Hounds ran well in the cool, wooded sections, but the line was spotty in the open fields because of the heat. Hounds finally came to a check at the water jump, and promptly jumped in for a welcome swim. Because it was so warm it took a little while to persuade them to leave, but finally hounds were roared past all judges again with the Field behind them, back to the Kennels. Riders cooled their horses out here while the mounted judges reported to the Senior judges and score sheets were checked to make sure all horses were scored. The judges reported that they had no trouble giving each horse a score in relation to other horses.

The Groton Hunt Challenge Trophy for the highest scoring Elementary horse was won by Joan Allen of Groton with Colonel. The Bluebell Memorial Plate for the highest scoring Junior was won by Gregory McDonald of Cheshire, Conn. with his Deena-Do. Green winner of the Groton Hunt Challenge Trophy was Dr. Phyllis MacNeil's Alton's Luck, ridden by Jean Helburn of Concord. Open Division winner of the Bergquist Challenge Trophy was Mrs. Kenneth Read's Torcha.

At the banquet the last evening, all score sheets were made available to the riders, and also the judges comments on all phases which had been dictated to the clerks. The judges were on hand to discuss their decisions with the contestants and to give helpful suggestions for the future.

Hideaway Combined Course and 2-Day Event

Michael Kelley

It was a strenuous ten day period concluding with an equally exerting two-day event. However, those participating in the Hideaway Stable Equestrian Combined Training Course were ready for some vigorous education (or re-education) and they got it. Seventeen riders brought horses in varying stages of training and ability; the riders themselves certainly had varying aptitudes. The instructor had the staggering job of solving the problems of these horses and riders. Fortunately the instructor, Major Michael Antoniewicz, had all the necessary knowledge and teaching ability to meet the job. His doctrines would meet with the approval of the majority - he does not like advanced dressage (high school movements); he likes a deep balanced seat; he considers much work at a walk, trot and canter and over low jumps as essential; and he fully realized the individuality of horses and riders. This last point is a rare quality among some masters of equitation. He rode many horses during the course and it was evident that this man could practice what he preached with very satisfactory results. His plan of teaching was well done as was his teaching technique. This, coupled with a great sense of humor, made Michael Antoniewicz a fine clinic instructor.

The group was divided into two sections depending on the horse's ability. Every morning, promptly at 8:30, each group would have a 90 minute work period starting with exercises and developing into work at a trot and canter with extensions of each. The afternoon sessions began with a lecture, a question period and again a 90 minute riding period. Much of the work was done over cavalletti; these were of different heights and types. The Major was presented with a unique collection of various jumping styles assembled in one arena, but here again his good coaching produced some amazing changes in many problem horses.

Saturday, August 13, began the two-day event with fifteen horses entered in the Dressage phase. Here again the separation was made according to the horse's ability. Horses who had won in previous events went into the Open Division - those who had inexperienced horses or were young riders (16 years and under) were classified in the Jenny Camp section. Of course this event is one sanctioned by the Combined Training Association. On the whole, the dressage was excellent. Those in the Jenny Camp did the Class N Preliminary test and those in the Open had the French Elementary test. Sue Wilson on Captain Nemo was outstanding in her performance, thus taking top honors. In the Open, the test was much more involved, calling for figure eights and serpentine. The superb performance of Peter Piper with Mrs. Edward Harris as the rider was a delight to watch - she was first in her division.

Many months of planning and hours of hard work went into the construction of the cross country course. The Jenny Camp riders had a mile and a half to go and the Open had a bit more than a mile longer. The course had all the necessary items for a really excellent test of horsemanship. The obstacles covered a wide range from a simple coop to a double row of birch fence with a six foot trench beneath, both wire and wooden gates, a step jump, a water jump (where a misstep put the rider and horse into fifteen feet of water), a hill and a drop jump. Much use was made of the natural facilities of fallen logs and various Trakehner type obstacles. The height limit was 3 foot six inches for the Jenny Camp and three foot nine inches for the Open. Again Sue Wilson came through the winner as she and Capt.

Nemo sailed around the course with a perfect score. Mrs. David Davis on Gypsy Hill was the winner in the Open as they edged out a Harris entry by four points.

Sunday morning was the final day of competition with the stadium jumping scheduled. Young Stirling Harris had much to do with the construction of the course which was most attractive and interesting. It called for eight direction changes; the simplest jump was a green and white post and rail with a row of flowers and brush beneath, but here again the course included a wide selection. There was a solid brick wall, an imaginatively colored coop, a railroad gate and barrels. The most popular jump was a post and rail with a bench beneath - seated on the bench was a dummy in the pose of an inebriate who obviously had been in that condition for quite some time (only two horses refused at this). A remarkable pony ridden by Marie Harris jumped to first place in the Jenny Camp while veteran Gypsy Hill, owned and ridden by Mrs. David Davis, won the Open with a perfect score, thus gaining the championship in that division. Mrs. Edward Harris was reserve. Sue Wilson amassed the smallest number of faults hence she was champion in the Jenny Camp with Jackie Harris on Sally in the reserve spot.

The judges for the event were Major Michael Antoniewicz and Mrs. Ann Glover.

THE CHRONICLE Genesee Valley Breeders Ass'n.

Excellence was the rule rather than the exception at the 45th annual colt show in Avon, N. Y. Not in many years had the historic Avon Downs seen such quality and condition of young horses. The Thoroughbred mare and foal was definitely in the majority the first day of the show with fourteen matrons exhibited in that division - there were half that number of non-Thoroughbred mares. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lowther had the car bulging with silver trophies won with their mare and foal, however, the final nod was given to the attractive Case entry. This trophy was a new addition to the show as it is a memorial to William D. McMillan, a long time member of the Genesee Valley Breeders Association.

The second day of the show is dedicated to older horses. The day starts with a parade of stallions and this is well worth the price of admission. Spectators could almost see their reflections in the coats of the horses as they were paraded by - Louis D'Or, by Centime, a comparatively new horse to the Lookover Stallion Station was the winner.

All the classes under saddle were very well filled with the young horses performing like veterans - there were 13 in the Suitable class for five year olds and under. Again the Thoroughbred horse was king in the yearling division and the size and development of the yearlings was almost unbelievable. The Thoroughbred trend reversed itself in the two-year-old department as there were quite a few more half-breds (or better) than purebreds. But it would have been hard to differentiate between the two. There were more three-year-olds exhibited this year than in the past and the very nice *Rhodes Scholar filly ultimately topped the show. It was fitting that the championship trophy be named the Craig Wadsworth Memorial since Mr. Wadsworth was a staunch supporter of the organization. M.K.

"Brenda," an uninvited guest, bedeviled the Sunnyfield Farm Horse Show to prove its motto: "The Friendliest Show." The hurricane damsel, strong, dewy and blowy, swished the tents of the temporary stabling and deluged the area with rushing rains. Not only the show, but the entire area became the friend in need to the visiting horsemen.

The Bedford Village Fire Department was alerted and, within minutes, three pumps were sucking water into a nearby brook. The Lions Clubmen, armed with brand new shovels, packed up banks of earth around the stalls and ditched the flow away from the horses. Truckloads of straw kept the animals above water.

With the animals warm and dry, coffee and doughnuts were distributed to all those in the stabling area. Later, box lunches of chicken and coffee were rushed to the grooms and stablemen while the exhibitors enjoyed a luncheon under a huge tent, with Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. McIntosh as the hosts.

MILLER'S NEW ZEALAND RUG

THE ONLY HORSE BLANKET THAT ALWAYS STAYS IN PLACE

No. 378-NEW ZEALAND RUG: We introduced these last fall-they were a complete "sellout". Made in England, these are the greatest all purpose horse blankets made. It will stay in place on 2 horse even after a night in the stall or turned out in the field. Made of heavy green scrubable canvas chemically treated to make it waterproof and mildew resistant. Wool lined to make it one of the warmest blankets ever.

Note the removable leg straps that fasten around hind legs to keep blanket from shifting and turning and to prevent its being ripped by the horse. Leather reinforcement at neck. The leather strap at breast as well as the leg straps and surcingle billet are of waterproof chrome leather that will never harden. The entire blanket is beautifully constructed, shaped and reinforced at all points of strain. Your "New Zealand Rug" will prove a great economy as the years go by. Parcel post weight 8½ lbs.

Sizes, 68", 72" and 76" ----- $27.50

78" ----- $28.50 62" ----- $26.00 58" ----- $25.00

(Add $1.00 to each blanket for postage)

For a complete listing of our blankets, refer to our catalog #6. For your free catalog copy-write Dep't. C 923.

Enfield

The annual Labor Day Horse Show at Enfield, N. C. has grown by leaps and bounds since its inception nine years ago. Sponsored by the Enfield Lions Club, the Show this year drew so many entries it was necessary to utilize two rings so that the numerous classes could all be run in one day.

Interest in Junior Hunters is rapidly increasing in the Tidewater area; two years ago there was no Junior Division at all at Enfield - this year, there was one of the largest Junior Divisions seen in recent Shows along the Southeast Coast. The quality of horses and ability of their riders has greatly improved and should provide better and better competition in the years to come, as most of the Junior riders are very young and have plenty of years yet to come in Junior competition. In the Pony Hunter Division there were at least three riders under nine years of age.

The Working Hunter and Open Jumper Divisions were barely filled and the intense heat and humidity took a heavy toll in performances, the Open Jumpers suffering most as there was all-too-short a break between the High Jump Class and the Jumper Stake. There were an inordinate number of refusals at the initial height of the High Jump Class and some of the spectators wondered if the stadium lights were bothering the competitors. One rider replied, "I don't really know - I closed my eyes!" Bebe

Upper Valley Pony Club Clinic

The Upper Valley Pony Club held its fourth Pony Club Horsemanship Clinic, August 10-21, at the Green Mountain Horse Association in South Woodstock, Vermont. Each year the caliber of horses, ponies and riders improves but this year the overall improvement was outstanding. The minimum age limit was raised to age ten this year but this did not seem to have any effect on the number of entries. On Wednesday, opening day, the G.M.H.A. stables were bulging as usual, with seventy-eight final entries.

Classification, delayed because of a cold persistent rain, finally took place at two o'clock that afternoon and the entire group was divided into four sections according to ability and the degree of training of the horses and ponies. These sections were subdivided the following day so there were eight groups of approximately ten riders, each with its own instructor. The A Groups were under the instruction of Mrs. Fredric Giddings, District Commissioner of the Upper Valley Pony Club and Miss Jean Campbell, Director of Riding at Smith College; B Groups under Mr. Harold Kimball, Director of Riding at the University of New Hampshire and Jennifer Smith, Pony Club A Rider; C Groups under Fredrica Maher, Mary Alice Brown and Vivian Barth; D. Groups under Mrs. Harold Kimball and Carola Bradford. Others who helped as Assistant Instructors were Marcia MacDonald, Ann McCollom, Beth Coakley, Kathy Hall and Phillippa Crowe.

Each day the grounds came alive at eight in the morning, feeding time for all Clinic horses and ponies. Then stalls and horses had to be cleaned and everything made ready for the morning session at ten o'clock. Each group then departed for its designated area, some at Bensley's Field, others in the main ring, jumping arena and various locations on the G. M. H. A. grounds. Morning sessions were intense and the children's attention and concentration was superb. After luncheon break at noon, lecture at one o'clock and another instruction period at two o'clock, everyone dove into their stables again to have horses, tack, stalls and stable areas ready for inspection. The curfew was rung at five o'clock and peace and quiet once again settled on the stables.

One evening during the Clinic Miss Campbell showed three films which she had taken at the Pan American Games of the Dressage, Three-day Trials and Prix des Nations Jumping. About thirty children were able to attend and found it very instructive, particularly in light of the work they were doing at the Clinic.

The last three days of the Pony Club Clinic are devoted to competitions which give the children an opportunity to measure the improvement they have made during the previous week. The whole group is reclassified by the instructors and every student is placed in one of four divisions for competition, either the Horsemanship Division or the Novice, Intermediate and Open Three-day Divisions. The Horsemanship Test, with eighteen entries, was held Friday morning at nine-thirty in the Main Ring. This test is a Caprilli type ride suitable for this elementary group. Each contestant is required to ride the test individually doing prescribed movements at the walk, trot and canter, a cavaletti and small jump. The test was called by Carola Bradford and judged, on points, by Miss Jean Campbell and Miss Joan Towne, from the Skidmore Riding Department. Awards were presented for the Horsemanship Group Friday afternoon with ten placings for the test and two stable awards.

The Dressage Tests for the Novice, Intermediate and Open Divisions were also held on Friday at 9:30 A.M., 10:30 A.M. and 2 P.M. with twenty-five entries in the Novice, sixteen in the Intermediate and twenty in the Open. The tests which are drawn up and judged by Mr. H. L. M. van Schaik are of a very elementary nature and on the whole were very well ridden.

Saturday morning the Open Division started their Cross-country Test with Roads and Tracks which took them up to the Reeve's Farm where the big course is laid out for the Combined Training Center. Only part of this course was used with no fence exceeding three feet. The majority of riders used very good judgement on pace and there were remarkably few time and jumping penalties.

Saturday afternoon the Intermediate and Novice Divisions rode their Cross-country Tests over modified courses at Bensley's Field.

Sunday morning all three Divisions turned out for the Stadium Jumping, also held at Bensley's, over a beautiful course laid out by Mr. van Schaik. This last day always draws a great many spectators and it is gratifying to see how the interest is growing for this particular sport.

Awards were presented in the main Ring Sunday afternoon as the whole group assembled mounted for the presentations. The most coveted award is the Conner Bowl, presented for the second year by the Conner Family in South Woodstock. This award is given to the child whom the instructors feel has shown the greatest improvement in riding, stable management and sportsmanship throughout the Clinic. This year the bowl went to ten year old Susan Hagerman from Plymouth, New Hampshire. Susie was the youngest rider in the Open Division in which she placed tenth.

Two stable awards are given in each division and A, B, C, and D Horsemanship Certificates to all entries. These certificates have no bearing on Pony Club ratings but are a mark of each child's ability at this Clinic.

A mad scramble of parents took over at this point trying to assemble children, ponies and gear in one spot and start the long trek home. The general feeling among the children was that this was the best

Clinic we have ever had. Certainly the Pony Club Clinic has become an institution at the Green Mountain Horse Association and if the participants continue to improve as they have these past four years some very fine riders will emerge and perhaps go on to the Combined Training Center and other National Three-day Events. Mrs. F. G.

National 20-Goal Tournament

George W. Wolpert

Milwaukee Polo club ended its 1960 season on a victory note, defeating Circle F of Dallas, Tex., 13-11, Sunday, Sept. 18, at Hinsdale, Ill., to win the Butler National Handicap tournament.

This was the sixth national championship won by Capt. Bob Uihlein's Milwaukee club in 12 years. In 1949 and 1950, Milwaukee won the National 20 Goal; in 1951, the National Open, in 1953, the Monty Waterbury trophy, and in 1960, the Spectator Cup in addition to the Butler handicap.

Circle F, which bowed to Milwaukee in the Butler Handicap, eliminated Milwaukee from the National 20 Goal in the opening match.

Milwaukee was host to the 20 Goal which was won by the Royal Palm club of Boca Raton, Fla. Bert Beveridge, 3 goals, his son, Bob, 5, Ray Harrington, 8, and Benny Gutierrez, 4, made up the winning combination that defeated defending champion Circle F, 6-4 at Uihlein Field, Aug. 15.

Capt. Russell Firestone, 3, teamed with Billy Mayer, 9, Del Carroll, 7, and Glenn Hart, 1, in the 20 Goal. The same lineup played against Milwaukee in the Butler Handicap, with Jules Romfh, 6, replacing Hart to give Circle F, 25 goals.

Six teams were entered in the Twenty-Royal Palm, Circle F, Detroit CCC, Oak Brook, Solo Cup - Tulsa - the California-Oklahoma combination of Leo Hulseman of Santa Barbara, and John Oxley of Tulsa, and Milwaukee.

The tournament was scheduled to be played in one week, from Aug. 14 to 21 inclusive. In order to finish in such short time, two matches were played at Oak Brook polo club, Hinsdale, and three at Milwaukee including the finals.

But rain spoiled the Sunday opener and championship match at Milwaukee, delaying the opener to Monday, Aug. 15, and the finals to Tuesday, Aug. 23. Here's the way the battles went:

At Oak Brook, Solo Cup-Tulsa defeated Oak Brook, 9-7 and the Royal Palm team, which had drawn a bye, promptly eliminated Solo Cup-Tulsa, swamping the 10 goal star Bob Skene and his teammates, 12-8.

Meanwhile, at Milwaukee, Circle F put Milwaukee out of the contest, 8-6 and then in the real thriller of the tournament played a double-overtime match with Detroit CCC (which also had drawn a bye) to emerge the winner, 9-8. Billy Mayer was the hero of that struggle. He ended the game at 3:55 of the second sudden death chukker by making good a free shot from 30 yards out with the goal unprotected. He missed an identical opportunity to end the match in the first overtime period.

The championship match was fought hard all the way, with no quarter given by either side. Royal Palm drew first blood on a goal by Bob Beveridge at 7:45 of the opening chukker, which Mayer of Circle F tied at 2:23 of the second. Del Carroll scored again for Circle F at 6:33 to give the tournament defenders their only lead in the match - and a brief one.

Bob came through again, at 7:19 of the second to knot the score, 2-2 and in the opening 12 seconds of the third, Harrington put Royal Palm ahead, 3-2.

Firestone racked up a goal in the fourth and Mayer added one in the sixth which ended scoring for Circle F. Three goals in the third for Royal Palm - Harrington's 12-second quickie and two by Gutierrez - put Bert Beveridge's team out in front, 5-2 and Harrington's insurance goal in the sixth gave them the championship, 6-4.

The National 20 Goal had been held at Milwaukee four previous seasons - 1954, 1955, 1956 and 1957, and then moved east to Meadowbrook, Long Island, N. Y.

Milwaukee Season

Milwaukee had its second best season in nine summers of polo at Uihlein Field - 10 wins against 5 losses. The best season was 1955, when the record was 12-5.

The season started with five consecutive wins - two over St. Louis, 15-12, and 16-11; over the Chicago Mercury's, 11-10; over Oak Brook, 12-11, and St. Louis (a return match at Milwaukee - the first two were at St. Louis), 17-8. Don Beveridge's Detroit CCC stopped Milwaukee's winning streak with an 8-6 victory.

Rain plagued Milwaukee in August. Matches in June and July were played under pleasant skies and a warming sun, but the weatherman was not so benevolent in August. Three Sundays in a row - this had never happened before - matches were rained out, forcing play on weekdays.

Milwaukee mounted a strong combination this year. Captain Uihlein, 3 goals, George Oliver, 9 and Julio Muller, 7, were the mainstays. Memo Gracida, 6, one of the four famous Mexican brothers who play International polo for Mexico was in the lineup for the National Open, the Spectator and the Butler Handicap. Muller, also from Mexico City, playing his second year with Milwaukee, was the team's high scorer. In the Butler handicap championship match he tallied eight goals, Memo, five.

Milwaukee also mounted Dick Hanke, 3, Gene Schram, 1, Dave Williams, 1, Toby Hilliard, 1 and Tim Leonard, 0. Three complete games were televised over WTMJ-TV, a fourth was rained-out.

Don Beveridge, Capt. of the Royal Palm club of Boca Raton, Fla., enjoys champagne from the National 20-Goal cup, held by Mrs. Robert Uihlein, Jr., at Uihlein Field, Milwaukee. Royal Palm defeated Circle F of Dallas, 6-4, Aug. 23, to become the new United States Polo Association National 20-Goal champions. Circle F was the defending champion. (L. to r.): Capt. Beveridge, Mrs. Uihlein, wife of the tournament host, Ray Harrington, Bert's son, Bob and Benny Gutierrez. Six teams competed.

Olympic Three Day Event

H. S. Treviranus

"We have come for the gold medal!"

Such was the confident air of the victorious Australians on the eve of the competition, as anyone within earshot could have heard. Still fresh from their victory at Badminton where they upset the favourite British team, the European Champions, few expected them to keep their form until Rome. The Aussie's "casual" determination is best illustrated by the lucky 50-year-old dairy owner Bill Roycroft ambling into the stands clad in scarlet, topped by a bushhat. This will to win was successfully reinforced by Franz Mairinger their Spanish School-trained coach and a team mounted entirely on home-bred horses!

Three days were set aside for the dressage test to accommodate the 73 horses representing 19 nations, staged at the Pratoni del Vivaro, an estate in the hills within sight of Castel Gondolfo, the Pope's summer residence. Luckily the thermometer dropped in time for the event, the weather being near perfect. The Speed and Endurance test took place on the same estate, where also the horses were stabled. From the spectator's viewpoint the courses were laid out with excellent visibility, benches being set up at vantage points and amplifiers to give you the latest in 3 languages. The organization in the hands of the army was less adequate in respect to competitors, largely for lack of technical knowledge. As in all other sports, the foreign press was severely handicapped through lack of assistance, especially in getting detailed results.

Whether or not a course is considered difficult or simple depends on two factors: the standard of horse and rider and the characteristics of its construction. The latter is laid down in principle by the FEI and is supervised by the appointed Technical Delegates, in this case, Messrs.

E. A. Sarasin and Guy J. DuBois. The standard of proficiency of the horse-rider combination is, however, the responsibility of the National Federation of the country concerned. In the Rome Olympics the National Federations as well as the Technical Delegates must share responsibility for any just criticism which arose, particularly following the Event. Charges of unreasonable requirements and even cruelty should be examined in that light.

The proof of the pudding is to be found in the results. Of the 73 horses competing on the day of the Speed and Endurance Test, 6 withdrew from the Test, 23 were eliminated, 44 finished the arduous course and of these, 15 did not lose any jumping penalties. Further, a total of 57 horses received bonus points for time, either in the Steeplechase or the Cross-country phase, or both. This means that 60% finished the principal feature of the "Military", more than finished at Helsinki and less than at Stockholm! In contrast, however, to these last two Olympic courses Rome was favored with a galloping country, straight approaches, largely devoid of rider problems, with excellent footing. Moreover it was laid out on almost level ground. This proved to be deceptive, as was apparent when the first dozen horses had started on course and word was passed back that more care and "less speed" were in order. The very size of the 35 obstacles, mostly of maximum spread (where spreads were used) combined with a rather large proportion of "drops", were taxing to the horses' stamina. The frequent use of native gorse, abundant in this area, to brush obstacles was very effective, but it was not cut down to the maximum of 3' 11", on the theory that a horse could "brush" through it. Most three day horses, however, are schooled to jump clean, so that they tired themselves unnecessarily. Lastly there was a most undesirable, if not dangerous feature, in the use of masonry obstacles, two in fact, which caused a number of injuries. Masonry when used as the top element of an obstacle and without the protection of wood or similar guards, cannot be condoned and proves nothing. No less than 44 falls were recorded during the day, an extra-ordinarily large number, but understandable in view of all the foregoing.

The Speed and Endurance Test took place over a course measuring 21.47 miles (34,560 meters) as follows:

(A) Roads and Tracks - 7,440 meters at a speed of 240 meters per minute, namely 31 min. Time Limit: 37 min., 12 sec.

(B) Steeplechase - 3,600 meters at a speed of 600 meters per minute, namely 6 min. Time Limit: 12 min.

(C) Roads and Tracks - 13,440 meters at a speed of 240 meters per minute, namely 56 min. Time Limit: 67 min., 12 sec.

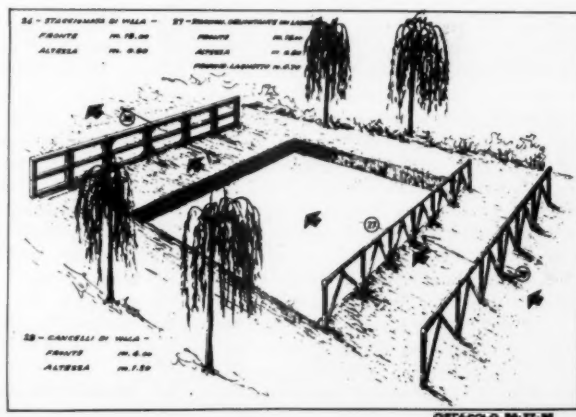

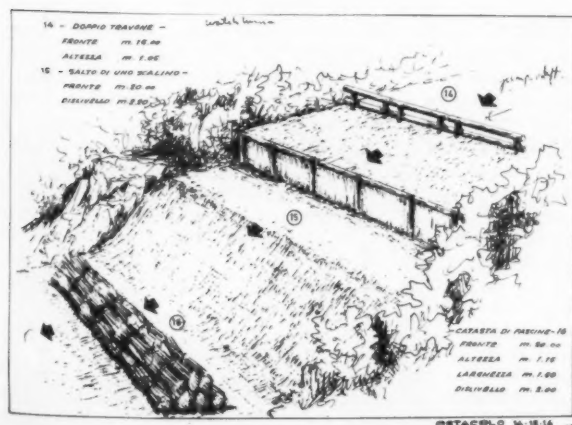

(D) Cross-Country - 8,100 meters at a speed of 450 meters per minute, namely 18 minutes. Time Limit: 36 min.

(E) Run-In - 1,980 meters on flat terrain at a speed of 330 meters, namely 6 min. Time Limit: 7 min., 12 sec.

TOTAL TIME: 1 hour, 57 min.

TOTAL TIME LIMIT: 2 hours, 39 min., 36 sec.

The obstacles of the Cross-country course were definitely imposing, measuring some 60' across the front. They required a good jumping effort, often of maximum dimensions, but at the same time with inviting approaches. A straight forward if lightly built post and rail, backed by gorsebrush was No. 1. Then a short gallop to the water ditch measuring 13' across. Both sides were too steep to climb up. It was made awkward by a small rise of ground directly in front, which reduced the visibility of the ditch, and by two poles placed to reinforce the landing ledge. It did not give as much trouble as expected although two horses went into it and out again! No. 3 & 4 was a road crossing with a stonewall, topped by sod, on both sides. They were frequently banked by horses, largely because only 30 feet separated them. Then came a beautifully built cement cattle trough in front of a massive Birch fence. A tight turn led on to a solid fence placed in a "V" ditch. Then a simple ditch with bank & brush, and a long gallop to an 8' wide ditch with a post and rail on either side. Down a slight slope came the wide cordwood pile with a 5 ft. drop which took a bit out of the horse. The innocent looking feed trough under a roof really took its toll in falls! 9 horses turned over here, time and again demolishing the flimsy trough. Evidently the roof distracted the horse. A rectangular sheep pen with a sharp right turn in the middle presented no problem, neither did the rustic gates followed by the rising approach to the "slide".

The problem here were the two sizable "drops", the first 7 feet, the second over a pile of faggots with a blind landing, the faggots being strong enough to be banked.

across the road of only 20 ft., as well as the high gorse hedge which sat on the far side of No. 34, obscuring the drop which followed, that made this the most formidable obstacle. The "stack of wine barrels" completed the course.

Taking the teams in turn, in their starting order, it did not take long for placings to change from those established in the Dressage Test. In the dressage, none of the U. S. riders appeared up to the form displayed on previous occasions and they placed disappointingly: both Sea Tiger and Grasshopper started very calmly, the former making several obvious mistakes while the latter aired his heels on occasion at the canter. Fleet Captain was without enthusiasm, especially at the walk and was over balanced when driven forward. Markham began with good cadence, but became progressively over flexed and consequently rigid.

The U. S. Team lost their first pair, David Lurie on Sea Tiger at No. 34, where he refused out. Sea Tiger had a rough trip before he got there, taking a smart hold and refusing at six other obstacles on the way. Walter Staley (Fleet Captain) worse on the Cross Country course, experiencing six falls among the four horses. Bambus was eliminated at No. 2 (Ditch) and Mures II at No. 24. Is it noteworthy that 3 of their horses stopped at the first obstacle?

Bulgaria

Their rides were characterized by stiff backs, abrupt transitions, gaits not marked and often no walk at all. Only Greibel (C. Veukow) gave a good performance, taking the place. Again the Endurance Test claimed two, leaving Cratere (G. Rachkov) without jumping penalties, about 30 seconds late in 22nd place. One fall was charged against Egoist (V. Tzolov) but he was out of contention with 125.6 time penalties.

Portugal

Here the aged grey Arabian mare, Nucleo, stood out, and with a hollow back, somewhat overbent, she stood in 9th place. Later, her rider withdrew at the first fence, having broken his hand. The next two were eliminated also and only the Man from Laramie got around with the

The following four - road barrier, six foot wide oxer, ditch and bank, and birch fence presented little difficulty. Then came the well built garden wall with the concrete ledge set into a ditch, mentioned earlier. The birch triple bar with hedge preceded the second 13' wide dry ditch both sides being well revetted. This brought down several horses who missed the far side. The next demanding obstacle was the Splash; Two rather low garden fences, set 15 ft. apart, the second being on the edge of the pond, which was a uniform 2 ft deep and 60 ft. long. At the end, three strides out, came the garden gate. This splash accounted for a great many refusals and falls, mainly because of the speed at which it was approached.

The succeeding snake fence and beehives, in the woods brought the horse to the dangerous concrete drainpipe sections, with the open ends facing him, and a drop beyond! Down the slope was the beautifully constructed "triple", shown in the sketch as Nos. 32, 33 and 34. Both the latter included a severe drop. It was the distance did not get that far. Early on the Steeplechase course Fleet Captain fell, dislocating his rider's shoulder. The young bay gelding fell again at the next obstacle and, being obviously unwell, was withdrawn. Thus with only 2 horses left the U. S. Team was out of the running. Michael Plumb on Markham earned 30.8 bonus points, with a strong start in spite of a fall at the problem fence, No. 34. The Pan-Am games gold Medal winner Michael Page on the redoubtable Grasshopper started very strong, tripped himself at No. 5 and unluckily fell again at the Splash, the little horse losing his footing in the water. In spite of this obvious loss of time, Page managed to earn 100.8 bonus points for time, an indication of Grasshopper's speed and condition.

Roumania

Mounted on horses of a different type with straight shoulders, they were below average. Both Adjul and Mures II were quite rigid through the poll and choppy in their transitions. They fared even enormous total of 424 jumping faults, plus 164 time penalties!

Russia

In contrast stood the Russians with four dressage performances far above average, the most appealing being that of the 12-year-old Bazis (L. Baklyshkin) with an outstanding walk, for 16th place. Satrap (S. Mursamilov) placed 4th, being very accurate if unenthusiastic. A clean round in the Endurance Test with 46 time bonus points left him in 5th place, ahead of Bazis who had a refusal, but 58.4 bonus points to take 10th place. Their two teammates had faults at identical fences, both being eliminated at No. 19, a ditch-bank combination.

Canada

James Elder, riding the 9-year-old Polish-bred Canadian Envoy, took 13th place with an even test, marred only by too much weight on the forehead, causing the quarters to trail on occasion. Roma (B. Herbinson), tossing his head, but with excellent transitions, had a smooth round without brilliance. Pepper Knowes (T. Gayford) suffered from a rigid back brought about by stiff hands impairing his potential. Royal Beaver (N. Elder) had a "running" extended trot and occasionally lugged in transitions, otherwise well in hand. Royal Beaver had trouble only at No. 2, the ditch, and with time penalties made 27th place. Canadian Envoy fell at No. 34 but was up and off to earn 65.2 bonus points for 14th. Unfortunately the other two faced elimination. Pepper Knowes, thoroughly spent after a strong start, refusing out at No. 29, the zig-zag fence, Roma got as far as No. 27, the splash, having experienced a crashing fall at the troublesome No. 10.

France

The big chestnut mare Nicias, under Guy LeFrant, put in a cheerful and appealing test to best all others! With outstanding extensions and well-defined movements it was a harmonious picture. Garden (J. LeRoy), another chestnut of some substance, performed with a hollow back and high head, tossing it when on light contact. Both Gulliano (P. Durand) and Image (J. LeGoff) were ridden with great tact and in balance. The French was the first team to finish, not only as a team (3) but brought all four horses through the rigors of the Endurance Test. The young home-bred bay, Image, had no jumping penalties and gathered 55.6 bonus points, finishing strongly to place 7th at the end of the second day.

Australia

The diminutive polo-cross pony Our Solo (W. Roycroft) gave a regular performance for 21st place, emphasized by an extended trot and walk of great freedom, gay in fact. It was marred only by a rather strong hold, sometimes including the head. The big bay gelding Mirrabooka (N. Lavis) was rather quiet, made no errors, a good two-track, but could show more enthusiasm. Sabre (B. Crago), as well schooled as his teammates, appeared extremely fit and obviously eager to go. Last came Salad Days, a brown with a lot of white. An impressive, keen horse he was ridden by the Team Captain, L. Morgan. A much better than average ride, this pair broke once and appeared to be heavy on the forehand. Absolute precision in their backing.

Our Solo went first in the Cross-Country and looked every inch a favourite - the sort of ground-eating stride a hunting man appreciates. Unfortunately he hooked the unpleasant No. 31 fence, the concrete drains, fell and took off alone. The time lost in catching the horse and finishing the course brought in enough time penalties to drop him to 33rd position. Roycroft had suffered a broken bone and a concussion and it was planned to withdraw the pair. The other three all covered the course without jumping penalties, and with maximum bonus points in both steeplechase and cross-country for Sabre and Salad Days. These two actually travelled in excess of maximum bonus and still looked fit on completing the test. Mirrabooka was only seconds behind them. Such an outstanding performance required more than sheer luck. These Australian horses are uniformly schooled and conditioned and at the end of the day accordingly placed 1st, 2nd and 3rd, an outstanding record!

Spain

Peyoba (M. de Vellejo), a nervous little bay moving on the forehand, jiggling on occasion, without doing any thing useful. Noya (A. Queipo) was obviously not ready, being unwilling even to accept the bit, spoiling everything else. Libramiento (J. Centeuera) a small part-Arab with rough transitions and a very short stride. The Duke of Albuquerque rode a spare mare who was inaccurate and frequently resisted the rider's aids, especially at the canter, a barely sufficient standard. It is not surprising therefore that none of the Spaniards finished the course, though one made it to No. 27 fence.

Switzerland

Burn Trout (H. Schwarzenbach). This big, brown English gelding was keen and rather strong with excellent extensions, marred occasionally by dropping behind the bit. The French 1/2 bred Gentleman III (R. Ruff) gave a stoic performance with a rather high and round action. Athara (R. Gunthardt) also gave a correct if listless display, marked by irregular cadence and mincing transitions. The rider's fixed hands caused the head to toss. Gays Park (A. Buhler), an Irish-bred with excellent natural action and perfect extensions, precise and very calm transitions throughout. He placed 8th, and it could have been a winning round. In the Endurance Test, only Gentleman III failed to finish, being eliminated at No. 19, the Ditch and Bank combination. Of the others, Burn Trout and Gays Park had no penalties at all, gathering 93.6 and 50.8 bonus points respectively, ending up in 4th and 6th position. Athara suffered three refusals on course and still managed 24th place, placing the Swiss team second only to the Australians.

Sweden

This team established a clear lead in the Dressage Test, their Emir (O. Barkander), a small but strong bay gelding showing well marked gaits and fluid transitions, taking 3rd individual place. 6th place went to Armagnac (S. Lindback), a heavier coach-type animal with a mechanical performance. Both Dan (R. Gustafsson) and Uran (H. Johansson) were unimpressive but obedient. In the cross-country, it was an entirely different story! All but Dan quickly retired after one or more falls. Dan also fell at No. 8, an oxer with a ditch in the middle.

Germany

Without two of their best horses, the Germans were also required to have on their team at least one East German, Army Lt. G. Schultz, on Wanderlilli, a slight brown mare of good presence with a business-like performance. Famulus (K. Wagner) is a bulky bay with a very large gaskin. Great accuracy even though inclined to travel on the forehand. The mare Winzerin (R. Klimke) swung her quarters and exhibited a complete lack of cadence, brought about by the rider repeatedly asking for a "half-parade". When on a loose rein she literally held her nose higher than her poll! Their top horse, the rangy and powerful chestnut, Polarfuchs (O. Pohlmann), placed 5th with a gay appearance and excellent presentation. In the Endurance Test, Wanderlilli and Winzerin were penalty-free, the former with some bonus points, while Famulus ran out of wind and refused out at No. 31. Polarfuchs, completely exhausted, had a crashing fall at the same jump (concrete drains), knocking off with his forefeet the protective slat and then badly cutting himself on the drains behind. He retired, and with him went a team placing.

(Editor's Note: One would have supposed that Pohlmann, the last German rider, would have ridden at moderate speed, so as to make sure of a team placing, instead of at the rapid pace with which he covered the first half of the course, apparently trying for an individual medal - he has been severely criticized by the German press.)

Argentina

Mesouero (C. Moratario) felt very fit resisting his rider's aids, in spite of the latter's tact. Desidia (I. Verdura) was too much on the forehand, hence "running" extensions and performed without energy. Ceibera (C. Madelon), a high-headed little mare with a neat way of going, though frequently losing her impulsion. Again, only Ceibera was able to finish the Endurance Test, having a fall and time penalties, the team being obviously overfaced and possibly stale.

Ireland

St. Finbarr (H. Freeman-Jackson). This long-striding chestnut with the big blaze had a correct ride, well on the bit, but lacked clarity between the various speeds of one gait. Sonnet (A. Cameron), a common type of horse with great honesty and willingness, nonetheless appeared unenthusiastic. In contrast was the little Harlequin (E. Harty), a model hunter type with natural gaiety. Often inaccurate, the pair lacked only in experience. Corrigneagh (L. Dudgeon). The extensions were without sufficient engagement, straight in the corners, without rhythm and a false canter, a very long-striding and supple animal. Both St. Finbarr and Harlequin were reassuring on the cross-country course - no penalties and some bonus points. Sonnet had a fall at No. 8, standing back too far, but without time penalties, while Corrigneagh had trouble at the Splash to finish with overtime. Freeman-Jackson, like two of the Australians and one Britisher, jumped into the pond right at the flag and immediately up again onto the bank at the side to continue on dry land!

Poland

Volt (M. Babirecky), a lovely grey with excellent extensions and regularity. Wolborz (A. Kobylinski), overbalanced, hanging on his rider's hands, especially at the canter. Krokosz (A. Orlos), a rough-gaited compact type who broke repeatedly at the extended walk and trot. Wizma (M. Roszczyński) was similarly handicapped, and restricted at the walk. In the Endurance Test, the last two were eliminated, Wizma with three falls. Volt having a clean round, earned 61.6 bonus points to take 11th place.

No. 33 Ditch & Double Bank.

Looking down into obstacle No. 2 - The Big Ditch, at the Olympic 3-Day Cross Country Course - (L. to r.): Col. Frank Appleton, Capt. H. S. Treviranus, Gen. J. T. Cole, and Gen. F. W. Boyle.

Italy

Arcidosso (L. Nava), has not learnt to accept the bit which spoils the performance. Plus Possible (A. Argenton), a coarse Irish half-bred is incapable of extended gaits. This horse also successfully evades the bit. Rahin (L. Tasco), another Irish half-bred, honest and trying to please, to the extent of anticipating aids. The hunter-type Court Hill (G. Grignolo), also refused to accept the bit, and did a test devoid of any precision. Three of the host team finished the course and of these Rahin incurred no jumping penalties, even though tiring rapidly. Plus Possible had three falls and finally refused to tackle the Splash.

Denmark

Rolf II (P. Baek), appeared inexperienced, hanging on the bit and showed no impulsion. The powerful mare Neutron (P. Zobel) was handicapped by a stiff back. When she loses impulsion, the forehand and quarters operate independently. Remarkably she placed 10th. The big brown Poker (A. Jensen) was in high spirits, ready to explode. Periodically he snatched the reins out of the rider's hands. Lakaj (L. Björke), a horse with much bone, had a very smooth test, assisted by an excellent shoulder and stride, and placed 2nd individual. Rolf II had a rough time on the cross-country course, hooking almost every obstacle behind until he crashed into the dry ditch, No. 23, unluckily breaking his back. Neutron refused out at No. 19, the ditch and bank, while Poker and Lakaj finished the course with several penalties, Poker being considerably over the Time Allowed.

Great Britain

The team as a whole was disappointing and the horses possibly stale. Wild Venture (A. Hill) consistently refused to take

Sportsmanship Award

Dear Sir:

Enclosed is our check for three, two year subscriptions, to The Chronicle to be sent as presents from the St. John's Horse Show.

I had hoped to have a picture of the presentation of our Horsemanship - Sportsmanship award but find the photographer has left for a week at the New Jersey State Fair.

We are proud of this award and feel it is the best part of our show. There is no entry fee for either that or the Sportsmanship Junior Groom Award.

There were nine entries in the Sportsmanship Junior Groom which was won by Miss Erminie Lane and forty-two entries in the other. Judged by two judges who judged throughout the day independently and who got together just before the award, to find that they both had the same child, who also won the small Pony Championship. I found it interesting to discover from Mrs. Allen that Faith had had a fall and been stepped on by the pony the week before at another show but came right back with a most conclusive win at our St. John's Show. I do not know this child but certainly feel that she is the kind of child we need. The award is a plaque with name inscribed to be hung at the church. The child got a small gold medal commemorating the event.

I feel that HorseShows need to promote sportsmanship and maybe prestige but not points toward national honors. It has been carried too far in that direction.

I am going to send the picture when I can get it and hope you will be able to use it.

Sincerely,
Mrs. A. J. Grunow
Bernardsville, N. J.

PENN RACING LAW

The constitutionality of Pennsylvania's 1959 harness racing law, permitting pari-mutuel betting, was upheld in a recent suit brought in Dauphin County Court, Harrisburg, Pa., by the Lord's Day Alliance. Judge Karl E. Richards ruled that "The state harness racing act does not violate any of the constitutional provisions set forth in the complaint or included in the memorandum of the parties as to questions involved."

STATEMENT REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF AUGUST 24, 1912, AS AMENDED BY THE ACTS OF MARCH 3, 1933, JULY 2, 1946 AND JUNE 11, 1960 (74 Stat. 208) SHOWING THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, AND CIRCULATION OF:
The Chronicle, published weekly at Berryville, Va. for October, 1960.
State of Virginia,
County of Loudoun

Before me, a notary public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Martin Resovsky who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Business Manager of The Chronicle (state whether editor, publisher, business manager, or owner) and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily, weekly, semiweekly or triweekly newspaper, the circulation), etc. of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption.

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are: Publisher: George L. Ohrstrom Estate, The Plains, Va. Editor: A. Mackay-Smith, White Post, Va. Managing Editor: Martin Resovsky, Upperville, Va. Business manager: Martin Resovsky, Upperville, Va.

2. The owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 percent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a partnership or other unincorporated firm, its name and address, as well as that of each individual member, must be given.)
The Chronicle, Inc., Middleburg, Va.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 percent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state) None.

4. Paragraphs 2 and 3 include, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting; also the statements in the two paragraphs show the affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner.

5. The average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the 12 months preceding the date shown above was: (This information is required by the act of June 11, 1960 to be included in all statements regardless of frequency of issue.) 7,188.

Thoroughbred stud farms contribute to the fame of Normandy, but also many buildings of great architectural beauty, cathedrals, churches and chateaux. Many occurrences of major importance to Western civilization took place in this region. Duke William I of Normandy, whose Viking forebears pillaged the land in the ninth century, set forth, not as a Norseman but as a Norman, to invade England in the year 1066. Upon the conquest of the land he became William the Conqueror, first Norman king of England. The Maid of Orleans, Jeanne D'Arc, was born at the historical capital of Normandy, Rouen. At 7:30 on the morning of June 6, 1944 - D-Day - below the German gun emplacements on the dunes of Normandy, began the debarkation of our troops and their allies to start the arduous task of freeing the continent from the yoke of the Nazis.

All in all Normandy is a fair land to visit - the hedgerows and the glistening green of velvety fields, gay with wild flowers in the spring, the young colts and the mares quietly grazing - make one thankful for an interlude of peace in a tumultuous world.

Few Prosper

Statistics show that horse-players leave from 13 to 17 per cent of the money they bet at the track. The tax is taken off the top. While some go away, sometimes, with more than they brought, it averages out so that everyone loses from 13 to 17 per cent.

The cost of collecting from the winners (except the big winners who are wise enough to report) is staggering and even if the Bureau of Internal Revenue collars an occasional daily double or pick-six, winner enforcement is certain to cost more than the pittance that can be picked up.

Actually, the decision to enforce the use of Form 1099 at racetracks was made back in 1957.

The September 14 issue of the Miami Herald carried the headline: "T MEN TO GET TOUGH ON RACETRACK WINNERS." The complementary head said: "Internal Revenue Cheated of Millions."

The story began: "The Internal Revenue Service is planning to get tough with heavy winners at racetracks that do not report their winnings on their income tax returns."

The story went on to say that the District Director was looking for ways to put teeth into the tax law affecting gambling winnings. (Why is it public servants always want to bite their employers?)

He was asked to estimate how much the Government was losing, and guessed, "It must be in the millions."

Pittsburgh Phil must have spun in his grave. What a piker he was.

The District Director should stand at the gate, after the ninth when the patrons are pouring out, and look at the faces.

Hawthorne

The feature at Hawthorne Park on Wed., Sept. 28, was the 8th running of The Yo Tamblen Handicap, six and one-half furlongs for fillies and mares with an added value of $15,000.

Mrs. Mary Keim's Indian Maid, carrying the top impost of 124 pounds, scored a two length triumph over King Ranch's La Plume. J. D. Puckett's Gerts Image was the show horse and Thoroughbred Inc.'s Decline and Fall was fourth. The winner broke the electronic beam at 1.15 2/5 for the 6 1/2 furlongs.

Indian Maid is a 4-year-old bay filly, by Rinaldo-Bold Verse, by Bold and Bad, bred by the Florida breeder Elmer Heubeck, Jr. P. G. Johnson saddled Indian Maid for jockey J. L. Sellers and their efforts were worth $18,275 net. It gives the winner six victories, two seconds and four thirds out of fourteen starts this year.

Charles W. Bidwell Memorial

The big event at Hawthorne Park on Saturday, Oct. 1, was The Charles W. Bidwell Memorial Handicap for 3-year-olds and upwards. It required a run of one and one-eighth miles and had a $35,000 added value.

Mrs. Mary Keim's Heroshogala, winner of the Illinois Owners Handicap a week ago, took the 14th running of this event by nosing out G. Stribling's Moon Cloud for the fat end of the purse, setting a new track mark of 1.47 1/5 for the 1 1/8 miles. Calumet Farm's On-and-On was third and T. A. Grissom's Lurullah, 4th.

Heroshogala is a 3-year-old chestnut son of Noble Hero-Coosawatchie, by "Hypnotist II, bred by the Floridian Elmer Heubeck, Jr., who is also the breeder of Indian Maid, owned by Mrs. Keim. Heroshogala's victory made it three stakes for Keim color bearers during Hawthorne's meeting thus far. The winner of the Bidwell Memorial picked up $29,700 net, which put him over the $100,000 bracket for his career.

P. G. Johnson trains the Florida-bred and jockey H. Hinojosa was in the irons.

MARYLAND FALL SALES

The 21st Maryland Fall Sales will be a two-day event this year on October 10th and 11th at the Timonium Fair Grounds, Timonium, Md. Held under the auspices of the Maryland Horse Breeders' Association, the sales will be conducted by Fasig-Tipton Company, Inc.

With over 200 horses to be sold, the sale will be held in three sessions. On Monday the 10th, the vendue will begin at 2:00 p.m. when 31 horses of racing age and 44 yearlings will go under the auctioneer's hammer. That evening at 7:30 p.m., the entire cataloguing will be yearlings with 73 individuals scheduled to be sold. Tuesday evening the third session will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the consignments will be made up of 60 broodmares, 17 weanlings and 2 stallions.

Among the consignors are Mrs. John Payson Adams whose Rhode Island farm has consigned 3 yearlings, 7 broodmares and 5 weanlings; C. B. Carter selling 7 broodmares; complete dispersal of 5 yearlings from the Estate of Margaret B. Edgar; Sydney W. Glass' 2 yearlings, 3 broodmares and 3 weanlings; R. Roy McClarin's 5 horses of racing age; S. Sagner and G. M. Cohen's 7 broodmares; 12 horses of racing age 6 yearlings, 8 broodmares and 5 weanlings from the Estate of Danny Shea; Springfield Farm's 4 yearlings and 6 broodmares and James L. BRITISH AGAIN WIN EUROPEAN JR. JUMPING CHAMPIONSHIP

Ever since it was inaugurated by the F.E.I. in 1956 the European Junior Jumping Championship has been won by a team from Great Britain. This was again the case in 1960 when the competition was held in Venice. Teams were entered from Belgium, Great Britain, France, Holland, Italy, Poland, Portugal and Hungary. Britain, Poland, Italy, Holland, France and Portugal finished in that order.

GERMAN JUMPING CHAMPIONS

Will the two champions retire? What could be a more fitting finale to any career finishing it with an Olympic Gold Medal? Both German champs, H. G. Winkler and his compatriot Fritz Thiedemann, solemnly swore that the XVII Olympiad would bring down the final curtain of Halla's and Meteor's glorified career.

By mutual agreement between H. G. Winkler and Mr. Gustav Vierling, former owner of Halla, the Olympic Games at Rome would be Halla's final showdown. She would retire as a broodmare. Bred to an appropriate mate, her colts no doubt would be priceless.

Fritz Thiedemann's seventeen year old gelding Meteor, who garnered his 149th victory at Rome, would retire on his laurels also.

The obesity inclined gelding would have no more worries keeping his svelte jumping figure.

And yet, only 2 weeks after their victory at Rome, Halla was entered for the world championships at Venice Sept. 17-Sept. 25, and again at the Muenster show.

H. G. Winkler announced to the press that this show is finally and definitely her last - or is it?

Fritz Thiedemann has changed his retiring tune also. As told to famous sports-writer Werner Pletsch: "Meteor is a once in a lifetime champion, a horseman's dream. It would be a shame to turn such a great horse out to pasture, while he is still on top as proved again at Rome, maybe some day....."

At Kiel, Germany, a huge bronze statue has been erected to commemorate Meteor. M.P.J.

JESSICA NEWBERRY

Jessica Newberry, who with Trish Galvin represented this country in the Grand Prix de Dressage of the recent Olympic Games, riding Forstrat, had a most harrowing experience just before that event. A correspondent writes: - "It was her fate to be caught up in the frightful complications of vanning the horses back and forth through the streets of Rome between the Stables (Villa Glori), the Gallopatorio, the two other exercise rings, and the Piazza di Sienna. For days before the Test all the competitors and onlookers joked about the complicated arrangements of having to van the horses for a 25 minute drive each day to and from the stables. On Sept. 5th, the day of the Grand Prix de Dressage, she waited 45 minutes for Forstrat at the Gallopatorio; while Forstrat and the van waited for her half a mile away. Bob Freels, stable manager of the U. S. Jumping Team, rescued Jessica and drove her around the blocked-off area to her waiting Forstrat. By then time was too short for her to give him the necessary workout. You can imagine how upset a 21-year-old in her first Olympics was on having to face the Judges under such conditions."

HILLSBORO HOUND BREEDING

Joint Masters Vernon Sharp and John Sloan are continuing the cross breeding program of the Hillsboro Hounds initiated by the late Mason Houghland. Mr. Houghland crossed Walker with English Hounds, using chiefly Brocklesby blood. The Walker blood goes back to Hillsboro Longstreet. Currently in the kennels are a litter by Bolt Action Howard Pickett, 1957 U.S.O. Champion, one of the leading sires of Walker Foxhounds active today.

NEW OWNER

Miss Penny Johnson of Greenwich, Conn., is the new owner of the Thoroughbred green working hunter Rare Edition, which she purchased from John Vass. He is a dark bay son of Colonel O'F out of Half Roll, by *Rolls Royce, bred by George C. White of Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Vass bought the horse from Mrs. Jane Vaughan of Brooksville, Fla., and reports that he was once a stablemate of the famed Thoroughbred racer Bally Ache. M. R.

HUNTING STALLIONS

Two stallions are regularly hunted at Metamora, and we wonder if this is not unusual. One is Rough Tour, owned by T. E. Wilson, Joint-M.F.H. and the other, Spring River, owned by ex-M.F.H. W. R. Clark. Mr. Wilson is enthusiastic about riding a stud at the head of the field, because even the boldest thruster thinks twice before trying to crowd the Master at a fence. E. C. P.

BETNER - NICHOLAS

Mr. Charles C. Auchincloss of New York City announced the marriage of his daughter Josephine Auchincloss Betner to Harry I. Nicholas, Jr. on October 3, 1960 at his residence.

Mrs. Betner of Spring Lane Farm, Malvern, Pa., is the daughter of Mr. Auchincloss and the late Rosemond Saltonstall Auchincloss. She is Joint Master of the Pickering Hunt, Phoenixville, Pa. Mrs. Alexander D. Mallace, Mrs. John Troxell, and Miss Cynthia Betner are her daughters.

Mr. Nicholas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry I. Nicholas of Syosset, Long Island, New York. A Harvard graduate in the class of 1931, he is a member of the New York Stock Exchange and partner of the Specialist firm of Benton & Co. He is a member of the Links, Racquet and Tennis, Piping Rock and A. D. Clubs and Mr. Stewart's Cheshire Fox Hounds.

Olympic 3-Day Event

the bit, dropping behind it. Having a difficult temperament, his rider could not get after him for fear of an explosion. Cottage Romance (M. Bullen), very accurate but complete loss of impulsion at all walk movements. Blue Jeans (N. Arthur), a strong short-backed bay in tight condition. This even and smooth test was marred only by resistance at the two-track. A very calm and attentive Samuel Johnson (F. Weldon), whose extensions were too rapid. He resisted the driving leg at the two-track. Wild Venture, galloping very fast, incurred two refusals and fell at the road crossing, No. 34, but nevertheless gained 93.2 bonus points! Cottage Romance had a trouble-free ride with 66.5 bonus points for 8th placing. Blue Jeans obviously was not in form, getting 80 jumping penalties. Samuel Johnson was also off at a fast rate but ran into considerable trouble, falling at No.

10 (feed rack in the shed), and at the road crossing, No. 34.

At the end of the Speed & Endurance Test the Australians had piled up an unassailable lead with almost zero penalty points and without losing a horse, not to mention the first three individual placings! Next came Switzerland having accumulated 252.22 points with three horses home, followed by Ireland with 407.51 and all horses in. France, Great Britain and Italy were the only other teams to finish with at least three horses.

By the morning of the last day, the British entry, Blue Jeans, had to be withdrawn on account of sickness, as was the case with the Australian Sabre (then in individual second) by reason of a sprained fetlock. This made it necessary for W. Roycroft to forsake the hospital to keep his team in competition. The Stadium Jumping took place at the colourful Piazza di Siena in the city of Rome in the afternoon before packed stands. Aneasy course of 12 obstacles, including a double, it nevertheless proved to be a good test. With Sabre out and Our Solo in, the Australians' total was now 261.21, i.e. behind the Swiss!

Amidst great suspense, the Australians had two clear rounds (Our Solo and Mirrabooka) and 15.25 for Salad Days, a total of 276.46. The Swiss' Burn Trout started very sticky, incurred 3 refusals, often leaving his rider behind, for a score of 98.75! Gays Park added 13 and Athara, 21.25, again leaving the Aussies well ahead of the field for the team gold medal as well as the individual gold and silver. The team silver medal went to Switzerland and the bronze seemed assured for Ireland (still with four horses) until St. Finbarr (H. Freeman-Jackson) missed the first obstacle! This allowed France to slide in for the bronze, followed by Great Britain, Italy and Ireland in that order.

Undoubtedly a lot of information can be gleaned from this event, but it tells much the same story as at previous Games. There is little point in entering a horse which does not have soundness, a ground-eating stride brought on by a good, supple shoulder and a calm temperament. Too many, particularly fourth horses, were clearly not up to the Endurance Test, judging by their way of going. It is not strange that all the horses near the top have a naturally long and flat walk-stride. It is even questionable whether a fourth horse is desirable. As for the F. E. I., they might well remind themselves as to the purpose of the Three-Day-Event.
